Say 'Snowstorm '87's' 2nd act could show Saturday

by GLORIA DAVIS

Just as the winter seemed to be a mild one, old Mother Nature dumped between 12 and 15 inches of snow on Antioch as the "Blizzard of '87" started about midnight on Monday and lasted through the bulk of Tuesday.

At press time, the weatherman predicts a possible repeat on the weekend.

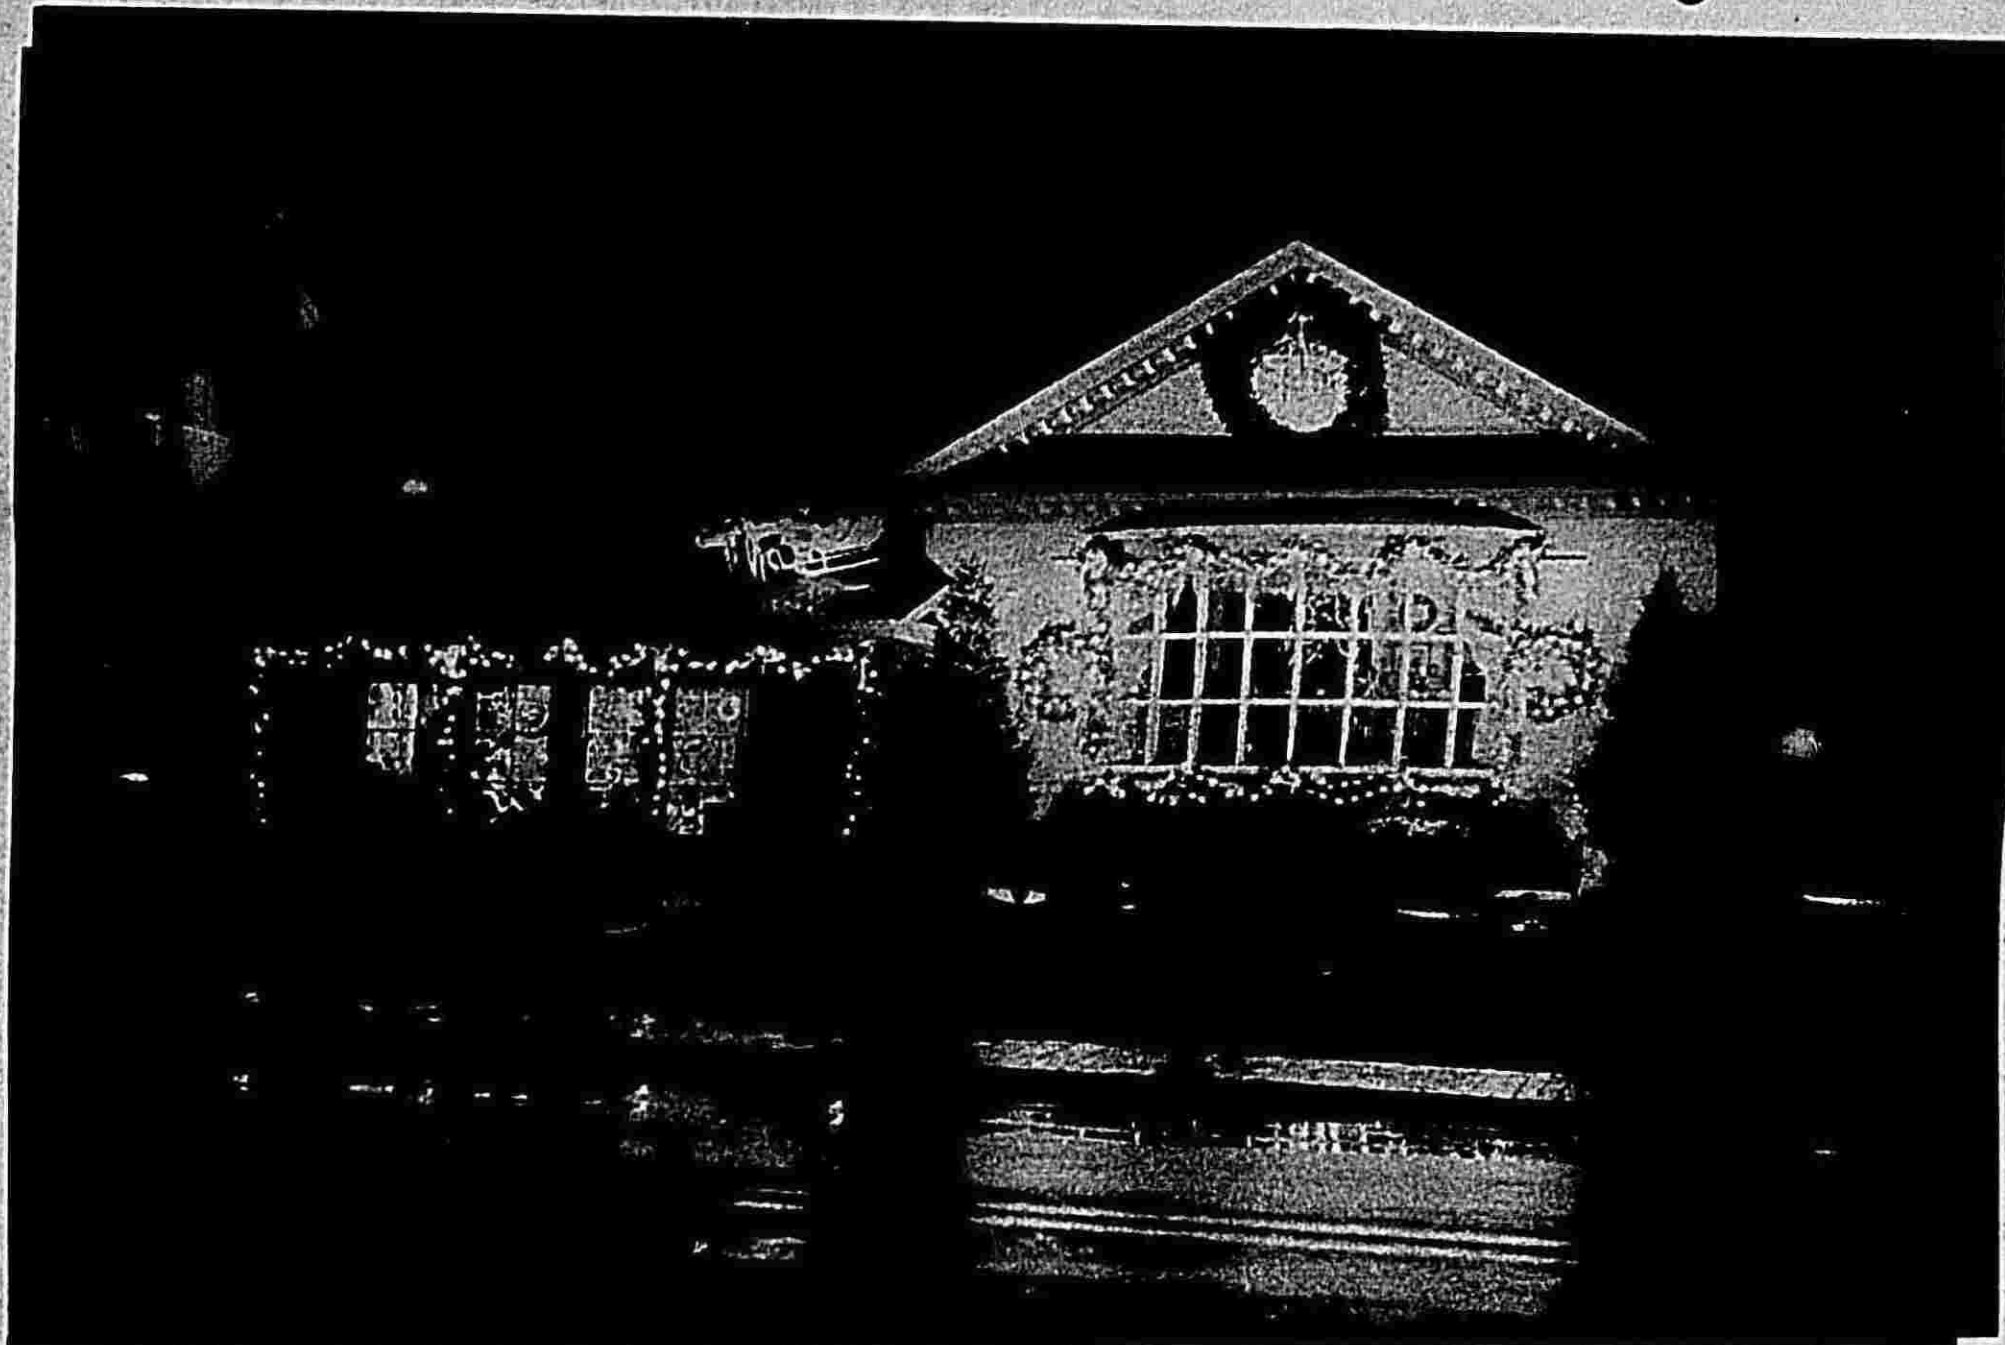

All of Antioch's schools were closed and so were some businesses. Others had just a dribble of employees show up before noon on Tuesday.

Winds reported to range in velocity from 60 to 90 miles per hour kept the roads, that had been cleared by the snowplows by mid morning, drifted over so that driving on the main roads was treacherous all morning and many of the back roads were almost impassable most of the day.

Many area residents were traveling up and down the comparatively empty streets on snowmobiles. One enterprising young man was seen skiing down Main St. as snowmen began popping-up all over town.

EARLY DEADLINE FOR CHRISTMAS

Regular advertising and news copy deadlines have been advanced to 5 p.m. Monday, Dec. 21, for the Dec. 25 issue due to Christmas. Want ads can be placed until 10:30 a.m. Tuesday, Dec. 22, by calling (312) 223-8161. Next week's edition will be on newsstands a day earlier than usual — Wednesday, Dec. 23. The newspaper office will be closed Friday, Dec. 25. Home delivery customers will receive their paper Thursday, Dec. 24, a day earlier than usual. We wish you a Merry Christmas and a happy holiday season.

Old-fashioned Christmas

Mangel's Florist and Gift Shop in Long Grove, Lake County's throwback to simpler times, sports old-fashioned sugar plum decorations. Homes and businesses throughout area are particularly well-decorated this holiday season and were made even prettier by snowstorm earlier in week. Upon Mangel's roof is a facsimile of Santa and his eight tiny reindeer, surrounded by colorful lights.

Mattson takes fourth place of 150 in rap contest

Robert Mattson, who did his original "rap" song at the Studio Club in Wrigley Field on Dec. 9, placed fourth out of the 10 finalists. A student from East St. Louis walked off with first prize which was a professional recording session of his song.

The Rock and Romance Song Contest was sponsored by Parents Too Soon, a statewide organization dedicated to keeping kids unmarried and in school.

Mattson placed fourth out of an original 150 contestants as a couple hundred friends from Western Ill. University and Antioch and his family cheered him on.

According to his mother Carol, all of her son's expenses, starting with transportation from college to Chicago, were paid by the organization of parents.

She and her son were housed at a Best Western in Chicago's Loop. "The kids were really treated royally," she added.

The print and electronic media were out in full force to cover the contest finals and all the kids were interviewed several times.

Since a large amount of money is spent annually supporting teens that get into a "family way" before they complete their education, the money spent on the contest is considered well spent if it will get students to listen to the advice of their peers and stay in school.

When Mattson was feeling slightly nervous before he went on he told his mother, "Now I know how Kris feels," referring to his sister's participation in many contests such as the Miss Antioch contest.

Another thrilling part of the contest was when Mattson met one of the judges, Chicago Bear Matt Suhey who was accompanied by friend Dave Duerson.

In fact, the whole family enjoyed the entire contest and all that went with it so much, younger brother Michael, now a senior at Antioch High School is thinking about entering next year.

Honor Blecke state principal

Arthur E. Blecke, Antioch Community High School principal, was honored at The Annual Spence Management Christmas Party held at the Anvil Club in West Dundee on Sunday, Dec. 6.

Bleck, Illinois' State Principal of the Year recipient, was the distinguished guest of honor at the franchise Burger King restaurants annual affair.

William R. Spence Jr., chairman of the board-Spence Management, toasted Blecke and presented him with a commemorative crystal decanter and glass set. Spence commented, "We're proud that one of our own local educators was chosen to represent our state."

Bleck, chosen by the Council of Chief State School Officers, attended a national symposium on education sponsored by Burger King Corp. at Captiva Island, Fla., in November. Blecke has dedicated over 36 years to the educational system.

AIDS test now mandatory for marriage applicants

After Jan. 1, 1988, couples who want to obtain a marriage license in Illinois must provide medical certification that they have been tested for exposure to the virus that causes acquired immunodeficiency syndrome (AIDS).

"Under a new state law, all couples must have their blood tested for exposure to the virus that causes AIDS within 30 days of their application for a marriage license," said Lake County Clerk Linda Hess. A marriage license is valid for 60 days from the date of issue.

Hess stressed that couples will not be required to provide the results of the test to the county clerk. In order to obtain a marriage license, couples need only provide a certificate, signed by a licensed physician, that the test has been administered.

Letters and new forms have been sent to every physician in Lake County who is a member of the County Medical Society and to all the hospitals. In addition, the County Medical Society is assisting in distributing the information to medical office managers.

"We're attempting to distribute the information as broadly as possible throughout the county," said Hess.

Approximately 10,000 Lake Countians will be affected by the new legislation, one of a number of new laws enacted by the General Assembly aimed at stemming the spread of AIDS. The new testing law requires that each party to the marriage be informed of both test results.

In addition, doctors are required to report all positive test results to the local health department of the Illinois Dept. of Public Health. The name of the infected individual will not be reported, only the sex, age, race and risk behaviors.

The cost of the AIDS antibody tests are borne by the persons applying for the marriage license. The cost of the tests can be expected to vary.

"My office has a brochure that explains in detail the various requirements of the law," Hess said. "I encourage all couples in the county who are planning to marry to stop by the office and pick one up."

Anyone wishing additional information on AIDS antibody testing or about the disease itself can call the Illinois Dept. of Public Health's toll-free AIDS hotline at (800) AID-AIDS.

State to grant regional funds

Four councils formed to initiate economic development programs in Lake and neighboring collar counties will receive a total of nearly $185,000 in grants from the state's Corridors of Opportunity Program, according to Sen. Adeleine J. Geo-Karis (R-Zion).

Corridors of Opportunity was implemented last year to emphasize a regional approach to economic development in Illinois. "The idea is to get communities to work together, using advantages their region has to offer, to attract and expand specific kinds of businesses that will create more jobs," Sen. Geo-Karis explained.

The Lake County-area councils and the grants they will receive are Lake Michigan Corridor Council of Lake County, $67,000; Fox River/Chain of Lakes for McHenry, Kendall, Kane and Lake counties, $27,060; Lake County Economic Development Commission, $40,967; and Golden Corridor Council of Cook, DuPage, Lake and Kane counties, $49,697.

Sen. Geo-Karis said 22 regional councils have already been formed around the state, and all of them are receiving grants this year to begin their marketing efforts or to conduct studies.

"The response to this program has been enthusiastic, and although the state has had to curtail its contributions because of budget restrictions, the grants will be enormously helpful in getting development plans underway," Sen. Geo-Karis said.

Holiday cooking

Holiday spirit has hit culinary arts program at Lake County Area Vocational Center (LCAVC). Students are busy learning new dishes and how to make them look inviting to guests of their restaurant. Culinary Arts Instructor Dawn Brumm, right, explains finer points of food appearance to, from left: Ted Stay, Fox Lake;

Valerie Myers, Lake Forest; Marco Excalante, Highland Park; and Joy Commuso, Grayslake. 'Beginnings,' the LCAVC restaurant is now open every Tuesday, Wednesday and Thursday for lunch to the general public. Hours are 11:15 a.m. to 12:15 p.m.

Obituaries

Harold J. Killoran

age 69, a Fox Lake, Illinois resident for the past 40 years and a former Chicago, Illinois, resident, died at Northern Illinois Medical Center in McHenry, Illinois, on December 11, 1987.

He was born in Illinois on February 6, 1918. Mr. Killoran was a painter for the Milwaukee Railroad and retired, following an injury, with over 25 years of service. He was a longtime member of the Fox Lake Moose Lodge and a longtime member of the Railroad Workers Union.

Survivors include one daughter, Virginia (Donald) Lietz of Angora, Minnesota; two sons, Gerald J. (Rebekah) Killoran of Granton, Wisconsin; Alan Killoran of McHenry; three grandsons, Kevin, Donald and Erik; four granddaughters, Heidi, Noreen, Amy and Tracy; one sister, Myrtle (Frederick) Hemstreet of Michigan; and nieces, nephews and other relatives survive. Mr. Killoran was preceded in death by his wife, Lillian Killoran, in 1983; two daughters, Noreen and Carol; one brother, James; and one sister, Josephine.

Private funeral services were held Monday, Dec. 14, 1987 at the Highland Memorial Park Cemetery. There was no visitation. Funeral arrangements were completed by the K.K. HAMSHER FUNERAL HOME, 12 N. Pistakee Lake Road, Fox Lake, Illinois (in the Chapel on the Lake). The family has requested that those who wish may send memorials to the Fox Lake Fire Department Rescue Squad.

George F. Lauterer

age 67, a longtime resident of Ingleside, Illinois, coming from Chicago, died Thursday, December 10, 1987 at Northern Illinois Medical Center following a long illness.

Mr. Lauterer was born in Chicago, Illinois on April 11, 1920. He was a member of St. Bede's Catholic Church in Ingleside and a former past president of the Skylark R.C. Flying Club of Wheeling, Illinois. Mr. Lauterer was a veteran, having served with the U.S. Army during World War II. He worked for Sears Roebuck and Company as a division manager in the plumbing-heating-air conditioning department.

He is survived by his wife, Letty Lauterer (nee Thompson) of Ingleside; two sons, Fred W. (Diane) Lauterer of St. Charles, Illinois; George F. (Terry) Lauterer of Deltona, Florida; two daughters, Jane (Donald) Marski of McHenry, Illinois; Pat (James) Mulligan of Orange City, Florida; one sister, Dorothy Lauterer of Ingleside, Illinois; 11 grandchildren, nieces and nephews and other relatives survive. He was preceded in death by one brother.

A memorial mass was celebrated at St. Bede's Catholic Church in Ingleside on December 12, 1987 at noon. Interment was private. Complete arrangements were handled by the K.K. HAMSHER FUNERAL HOME, 12 N. Pistakee Lake Rd., Fox Lake, Illinois (The Chapel on the Lake).

Charlotte "Chickie" Rudolph age 63, of Antioch, Illinois passed away December 9, 1987 at her home. She was born February 10, 1924 in Chicago, Illinois and had lived in Antioch since 1945. On January 24, 1942, she married Howard R. Rudolph in Chicago, and he preceded her in death on March 17, 1985.

Survivors include one son, Charles (Pamela) Rudolph of Round Lake Beach, Illinois; two daughters, Charlene (Dominick) Crifasi of Trevor, Wisconsin and Judith (Larry) Martin of Lake Villa, Illinois; two sisters, Lorraine Ellis of Antioch and Besta (Gunner) Swenson of Stewart, Florida; eight grandchildren and two great-grandchildren. Funeral services were held Friday, December 11, 1987 at STRANG FUNERAL HOME, 1055 Main St., Antioch, Illinois, with the Rev. Darrell English, pastor of the United Methodist Church of Antioch, officiating.

Interment was private. Friends desiring may make contributions to the Antioch Rescue Squad in her memory.

Northwoods Health Care Center, Belvidere, Illinois.

He was born January 9, 1901 in Chicago, Illinois, the son of the late Nels Jensen and Martha Sorensen Spanggard. He moved to Antioch, Illinois in 1907, where he lived until moving to DeKalb recently. He was a member of the United Methodist Church in Antioch, was a former volunteer fireman in Antioch for many years. He had worked as a young man for the Waukegan Oil Co., an ice cutter on the Chain O'Lakes, a motion picture operator from 1918 until 1971 had worked at the Antioch Lumber and Coal Co. in Antioch.

On June 5, 1926, he married Edna Peterson in Chicago, Illinois and she preceded him in death on January 25, 1963.

Survivors include one daughter, June (Kenneth) Krueger of Sycamore, Illinois; one sister, Marion Spanggard, and one stepsister, Mary Jane Grande, both of Wisconsin; and five grandchildren.

Funeral services were held Monday, December 7, 1987 at STRANG FUNERAL HOME with Rev. Darrell English, pastor of United Methodist Church of Antioch, officiating, with interment at Hillside Cemetery, Antioch. Friends desiring may make contributions to the United Methodist Church of Antioch or the Antioch Fire Dept. in his memory.

CALLUSES

The skin of the sole of the foot is unusual: It has not sebaceous glands and no hair follicles, but it does have sweat glands. The thickness of the sole varies greatly, depending upon the amount of weight each portion bears.

Calluses form on areas where pressure is the greatest. Usually, calluses are protective, but they are also a result of undue pressure caused by a defect in the bony structure of the foot.

When a person feels pain in areas where callusities have build up, the podiatrist may suggest conservative treatment first, such as a different type of shoe or use of a shoe insole molded to the shape of the foot. When pain continues despite conservative measures, the toe deformities may have to be surgically corrected. A minimal-incision, in-office procedure is often recommended.

The fall sports wrap-up shows racers ahead

At ACHS, the varsity tennis team finished with an overall record of 1-11-1 and 1-8 in conference. The captains were Joanne Shinflug and Kelly Smith. The most valuable player was Heather Nelson and most improved player was Mandy Fritts.

In Sequoit volleyball, the girls team had a very rough year finishing, 5-25 overall and last in the conference. They did win the first game of the regionals but lost the championship game. Tara Farnsworth was voted as the captain. Heide Davis was the most valuable player and most improved was Cyndie Quinn.

The ACHS varsity golf squad was made up of four seniors and seven juniors. John Clark, Scott Detienene, Scott Frasch, John Lenz, Chad Alfano, Craig Askew, Ryan Ward, and Neil Owen. The varsity season record was seven wins and six losses. The conference record of four and four was good for a fifth place finish and the squad finished fifth in the Lake County meet. most valuable player - Scott Frasch; team captain - Scott Frasch; and most improved player - Chad Alfano.

In Antioch High School girls' golf, they had an excellent year. They had their first winning season in their seven history finishing with a 10-5 season, with rankings in both the major Chicago papers. They finished second at regionals and for the first time took the team to sectionals where they finished 10th. The brightest play was from team captain, junior Ali Rogala. She took medals at regional and sectionals and is Antioch's first girl to go the state final where she tied for 55th in a field of 99. The team far exceeded their hopes for the year and the best news is that they will lose only one girl to graduation, senior Jill Johnson. Other notable golfers are sophomore Jenny Harris who's strong play kept them in many a meet and was the most valuable player, and sophomore Jill Banks who is our most improved player.

The 1987 ACHS varsity field hockey team finished the season with a 5 and 13 overall record. The five victories were the most a hockey team has had in several years. The most exciting game of the season was a triple overtime victory over New Trier in its first game of the regional tournament.

Atkinson, Melissa Lavik, Karen Spronk and Tammy Wolf; juniors: Denise Bosk, Kelly Cain, Tracy Fahrner, Liz Glenn, Cathie Haley, Jennifer Haley, Jill Oizga, Amanda Sherman, Karen Williamson, and Betsy Zeien; sophomore: Tonya Tointon, Freshman Lisa Filip and Susan Ozga. Members of the J.V. team were Millie Mercer, Diane Oldenberger, Tasha Osmond, Kelly Roed, and Nikki Walczak.

Managers were Renee Doetsch, and Renee Aronson. Team honors were captain's Karen Spronk, and Cathie Haley. Most valuable was Tracy Fahrner.

In addition, Spronk was chosen a member of the First Team All-State and Fahrner was chosen a member of the Second Team All-State.

The ACHS girls cross-country team finished their season with a dual meet record of 10-0. Along with their third place finish at the NSC conference meet, the girls tied for first in the conference.

In invitationals throughout the season the girls placed very high, always placing in the top five teams.

chen, junior Liz Waters and sophomores Michelle Hansen and Julie Brandt. All County runners were: Liz Waters and Michelle Hansen.

In state competition the girls qualified for the state sectional meet and finished 16th.

Team honors were, team captain, junior Liz Waters; most improved, junior Lisa Jones; most valuable, Liz Waters.

The varsity letter winners were, senior Vicki Simmons, juniors Liz Waters, Lisa Jones, sophomores Julie Brandt, Michelle Hansen and freshmen, Cathy Bock, and Jenny Wise.

In cross country boys play, they finished with a dual meet record of 4 to 6 and a fifth place finish in the overall conference standings. Team honors were, most valuable, freshman Shane Warner, team captain, senior Brett DeRousse, most improved, senior Tim MacDonald.

Varsity letter winners were: seniors: Brett DeRousse, Tim Mac-

The ACHS soccer team experienced a building year this season, finishing with a 2-14-1 record and eighth place in the conference. The future looks bright for the program as the underclass squads finished the season with a combined record of 19-3-2.

A sophomore, Vince Losacco, was voted most valuable Player. Rich Cancelliere was elected as team captain, and Brett Bennett was selected as the most improved player. Losacco and Tom Mueller were selected as members of the All-Conference Team.

AUGS band wows Racine crowd at shopping mall

by CAROLYN HAMMOND
(312)395-6081

'Tis the lull before the storm—the week before Christmas when all the children are home for the holidays. Hope you have your shopping done before then; you'll get very little accomplished from now on until they once again are back in school.

Speaking of home and Christmas. . . It's a sad note when a few kids think it's funny to go out and take or smash Christmas lights adorning the many homes in our town. Come on, kids, grow up and realize that the lights are put there to promote the good will and spirit of the season. When you take or destroy them, you hurt those who put them there for you to enjoy.

Enjoyment was the name of the game at Regency Mall in Racine, Wis., last Sunday as the Antioch Upper Grade School Senior Band performed in concert. Besides a large audience of Antioch fans, many shoppers stopped to enjoy the music, probably amazed that such young musicians could be so good. Everyone got into the act when Director Earl Bush announced a sing-along with the audience. Bush was prepared for the event, and announced that there would be no excuses not sing, because he had brought song sheets along, which he promptly handed out. As usual, the band represented our town and school very well.

The band, along with its junior counterpart, presented its winter concert for the Antioch community on Dec. 17.

Sequoits impress parents

Antioch's wrestlers held their annual parents night last week and showed Mom and Dad that their hard work has paid off.

The Sequoits won two of three matches with one tie against Niles North. The junior varsity tied 31-31, the freshmen won 53-12. The varsity lost in a close meet, 26-24.

From the pom poms' top-notch performance, to the thrilling heavyweight match that ended the meet, it was an exciting night for the parents. Sporting red and white carnations, provided by the wrestlers, the parents lined up behind the wrestlers before the meet to be introduced.

The crowd chanted "Jeremy, Jeremy" as they watched Jeremy Johnson defeat his opponent 8-4.

Two of the matches that really impressed

Antioch coach Ted DeRousse were by Dave Sheppard in a tie and Tony Sbalchiero in a 12-5 defeat. DeRousse called Sheppard's match "a great performance" and although Sbalchiero lost, the coach said "as a very new varsity wrestler he fought hard. When the chips were down, he gave us a chance to win the meet".

Junior varsity coach Jeff Moxley felt the team also generated some excitement. He said the wrestling techniques are getting better as the team members get more mat time. "What hurt us the most was splitting the mats," the coach said.

After exhibition matches were over, some of the regular junior varsity matches were moved, one at a time, to the other mat.

The Sequoits host Lake Forest in North Suburban Conference dual meet competition before competing in next week's Lake County meet at Waukegan West.

Nippersink Library to ask for advice from community

Nippersink Library Board of Trustees decided not to put a building bond referendum on the March ballot. This decision was in response to public reaction against a referendum that was demonstrated at the special public meeting on Nov. 30.

TWENTY YEARS AGO: Dec. 21, 1967

Dane Starkey, president of the First National Bank of Antioch was elected president of the Antioch Chamber of Commerce.

Army Spl.4 Leslie Miller, serving in Vietnam, was awarded the Bronze Medal, the Purple Heart and a Silver Star.

The Polk Bros. appliance store in Waukegan burned to the ground.

It was holiday party time in Antioch with the Kostoffs, Carlsons, Kakaceks and Bucars the hostess and hosts with the mostest on the ball.

Tom and Cathy Haley had a new arrival, Elizabeth Ann.

Clem and Mike Haley and Jack Wells, Jr., all in the service, were home for the holidays.

Candidates for the king and queen of Antioch High School's Christmas formal were: Denise Prather, May Pirko, Janet Dirksen, Cheryl Cunningham, Dan Haley, Terry Nickerson, Joel Strahan, Mike Wells and Dan Smith.

Approximately 50 youngsters and 40 parents attended Santa's Christmas Party at the Antioch Moose Lodge.

The seventh annual Northern Illinois Conservation Club's Ice Fishing Derby was being prepared for at Joe and Helene's Little Acres on Loon Lake Rd.

Two bedroom apartments at the Colonial Ridge Apartments on Rte. 83 were renting for $135 per month, heat included.

TEN YEARS AGO: Dec. 21, 1977

About 350 youngsters attended a Christmas Party given by the Antioch Veterans of Foreign Wars at the Antioch Auction Center on North Ave.

The Chicago Bears made th playoffs by the hair of a well-kicked field goal by Bob Thomas.

The Antioch Village Board okayed the demolishing of the village "eyesore," the Willowdale Dairy building, adjacent to Williams Park.

Three Antioch residents, including the township assessor had filed petitions for seats on the Lake County Board, John Steitz, Frank Recupido, and Assessor R. G. "Bud" Holtz.

The "Luciafest" was celebrated at St. Stephen's Lutheran Church with Laura Erickson reigning as "Queen of Lights."

Members of Antioch's PM?L Theatre group, led by Ken and Betty Smouse, began singing Christmas caroles in 18th century costumes at Hawthorn Center.

Both Marilyn Sterbenz and Sue Koppa picked the outcome of the Sequoit-Round Lake Panther grid contest.

The Sequoit cagers beat Grayslake, Round Lake and North Chicago in successive wins.

Don Beveroth directed the all children's play "Many Moons," at the PM?L Theatre.

Antioch Twp. Sup. Jim Fields celebrated a birthday.

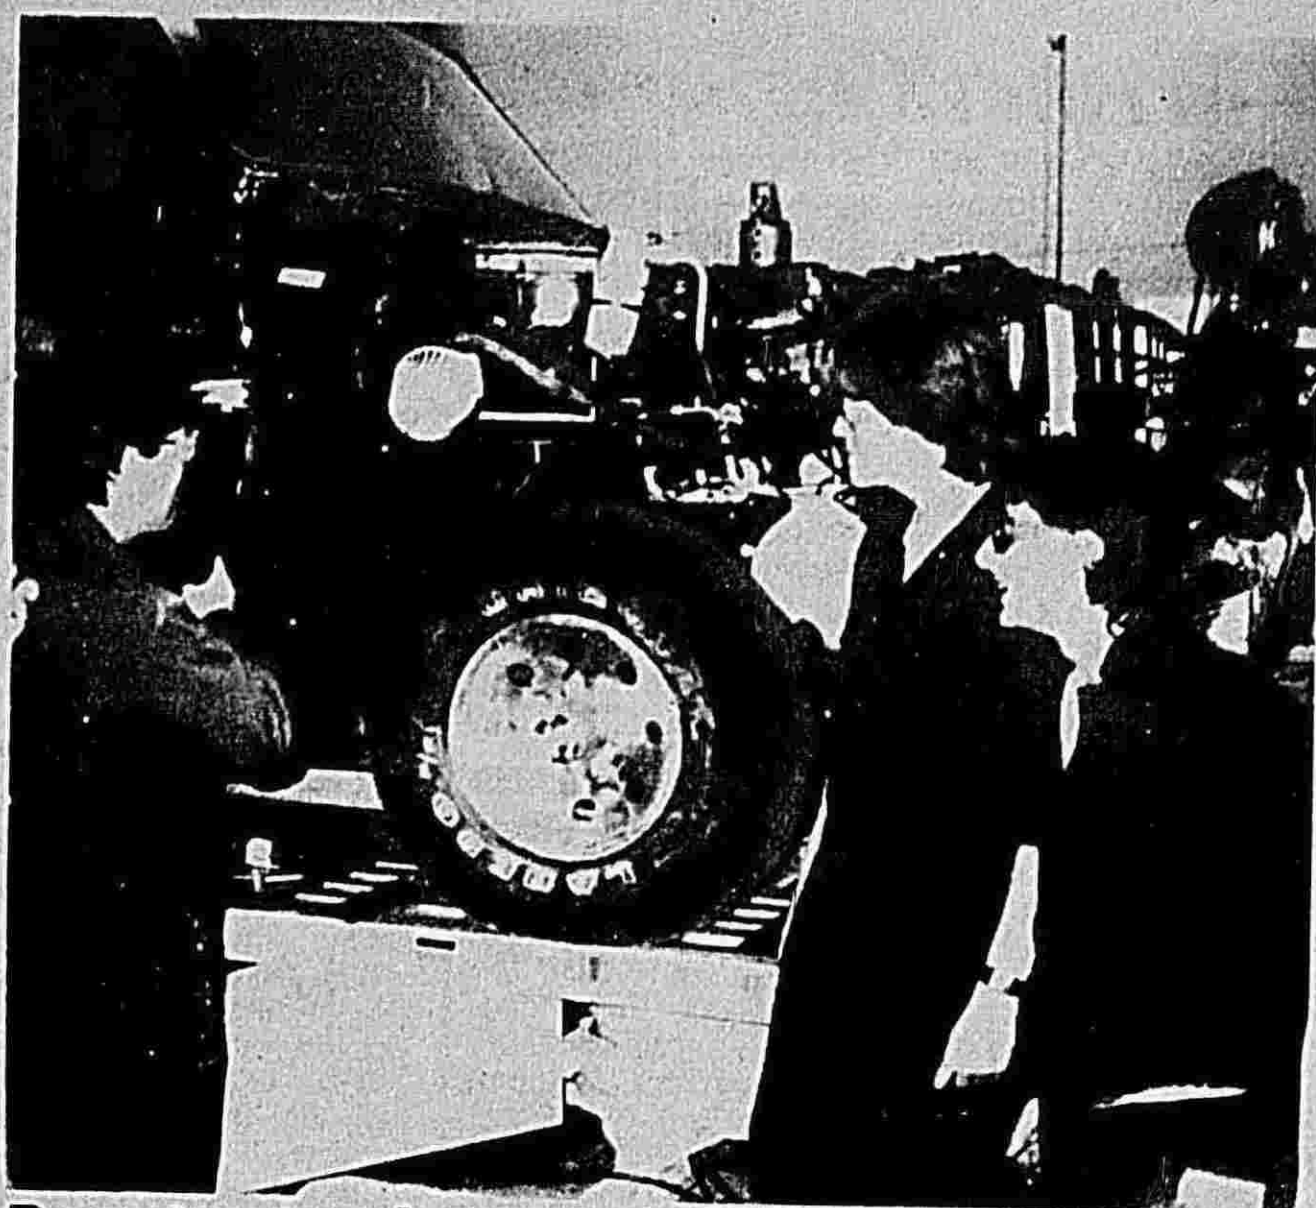

Eighteen residents attended the public meeting. Most agreed on the need for a new library building, but were dissatisfied with the building program the library board presented to the public.

In a letter to the board, the group identified as Friends of the Taxpayers suggested that the Richmond Fire Station might be remodeled into a new library; it also suggested renting the building next to the State Bank of Richmond. Its other suggestion was to redesign the building plan to allow for a building of 5,550-6,000 square feet and a lower bond issue.

Lief Anderson said that a proper planning process is to determine what library services are wanted in the community and to design a library around these services. The Friends of the Taxpayers in its letter stated that the library does not need more books, magazine files, more space, or more services. It suggested that story hours and craft program could be done in the table and chair study areas.

John Toler, Spring Grove resident, questioned whether the community was ready to support a new library. Phillip Emmons suggested that the board poll the community to find out what it wants in library services. Donna Dufur, board member, said that the board regularly does formal and informal surveys and that it studies library usage statistics to understand how people use the library.

Anderson reported that he had unofficially spoken with a member of ISLAC (Illinois State Library Advisory Committee) who said that the committee was impressed with the plans of the proposed library.

Toft urges buckling up for safe, happy holiday

Everyone looks forward to the holidays with the anticipation of a child. Caught up in the spirit of the season, they shop for the perfect gifts and decorate their homes. It is a time of tradition, when everyone expresses love and appreciation to family and friends.

This year, Mayor Raymond Toft thinks it is a good idea to show one's caring by asking loved ones to buckle their seatbelts. It only takes a few seconds, and could keep the holiday from becoming a tragedy.

As everyone travels in a car during the next several weeks, be safe and practice good driving habits. Choose a designated driver if planning to drink. Be aware of changing winter road conditions and reduce speed accordingly. Protect everyone by buckling safety belts every time one rides in a vehicle. Make sure all children are buckled into seatbelts or child safety seats.

A seatbelt keeps all occupants in their seats inside the car. If unrestrained, occupants can be thrown against the car's interior or each other, causing serious injury or even death. And a seatbelt is the best defense against a drunk driver.

Warren's Christmas wish:expanding lead

One team on a roll will clash with another seeking to break a losing streak when Warren travels to Niles North for a North Suburban Conference battle Dec. 18.

Warren is in first place in the NSC with a 3-0 record, 5-1, after the Blue Devils zapped Stevenson 55-38 and North Chicago 56-43 last week. The host Vikings, meanwhile, lost

Grapplers set for meet

Coming off a Lake County wrestling meet championship in 1986, one might expect Warren Twp. High School's wrestlers to be filled with anticipation about the upcoming meet Dec. 21 and 22 at Waukegan West.

Yes, defending the title would be nice, Warren coach Mark Tiffany says, but that is not an immediate goal.

"Last year we won it with a lot of help from other teams. We're not talking about that. Our only goal is to get better every day and not make the same mistakes," Tiffany said.

Also, there is a matter of a few dual meets before now and the county meet. Warren hosts Niles North in a North Suburban Conference match Dec. 18 and Waukegan East and Grant in home duals at the fieldhouse Dec. 19.

That means the Blue Devils will be seeing a lot of East's and Grant's wrestlers before the end of the county meet Dec. 22.

Warren is coming into this week's dual action off two strong wins in NSC play. Warren beat North Chicago 42-9 and Stevenson 45-14 to improve the dual record to 5-1 overall and 2-1 overall.

Against North Chicago, Kevin Sullivan started things off by winning a 5-1 decision at 98 pounds.

After North Chicago won at 105, Nick Tomasello earned a 7-3 decision at 112, Ken Chumbley won by a pin in 3:40 at 119, Keith Friedman won by a technical fall at 5:30 and Bryan Self won a 13-11 decision at 132.

North Chicago won next at 138, but Mike Frecking won on a technical fall. After a North Chicago decision, Warren received forfeits at 167 and 185. Conrad Divilbiss won his eighth match of the year with a 7-1 win at heavyweight.

In the Stevenson match, Warren dominated in the middle and heavy weights to earn the victory.

The Patriots' Jerry Follet decisioned Sullivan 8-4 at 98 pounds.

Borucki won on a technical fall over Stevenson's Craig Shapiro in 3:56 at 105.

to Antioch and Stevenson.

"Anytime you can pick up two wins in a weekend, it's a good weekend," Warren coach Darrel Bader said.

The win over the Patriots ruined the first basketball home game for the Pats' boys, but Warren has become an expert at winning on the road because of its well-known problems with no completed gym in Gurnee.

In both contests, strong second and third quarters helped turned the tide.

"We picked up the tempo in the last few minutes of the second quarter. Derek (Shelton) came up with a few steals and that got us going," Bader said.

Dave Sjong led the Blue Devils with 17 points. Matt Lingenfelter had 12 and Shelton 10.

Warren trailed 13-10 after one quarter but turned that into a 25-22 lead at halftime.

Warren's tough man-to-man defense took control in the second half. Stevenson managed just 16 points for the entire half.

Rob Anderson had 16 points for the Patriots while Cleveland Tyson had 10.

At North Chicago on Saturday, the Blue Devils and Warhawks played on fairly even terms in the first half with Warren taking a 30-28 halftime lead.

But Warren then put the defensive clamps on in the third quarter. North Chicago managed just six points for the quarter while Warren built up its lead by scoring 12. James Coles, who scored 17 for North Chicago in the first two quarters, was held scoreless.

Warren won a fiercely contested battle for rebounds 24-23 with Lingenfelter leading with 10, including three that resulted in tip-in shots. Lingenfelter had 14 points to lead Warren.

"We started to play well the last three minutes of the second quarter and that carried over into the second half," Bader said.

What killed the Warhawks, who were coming off a win over Libertyville, was fouls. The host team was whistled for 31 fouls while Warren committed just 13. Three North Chicago players fouled out.

Following the game at Niles, Warren will be competing at the DeKalb Christmas tournament. Action begins Dec. 21 with the first game against Sycamore at 6 p.m.

Geo-Karis warns drivers of tough new DUI law

State Sen. Adeline Geo-Karis (R-Zion) is reminding Illinoisans that a tough new DUI law which tightens the belt even more on repeat offenders goes into effect

Jan. 1—which is any time after midnight on New Year's Eve. Under the new law, signed by Gov. James Thompson in September, a driver convicted twice within a 20-year period for driving under the influence, reckless homicide or leaving the scene of an accident involving death or injuries will lose his license for at least three years.

A third conviction will result in the loss of driving privileges for a minimum of six years and be subject to a Class 4 felony, which carries a possible one-to-three-year jail sentence and a fine up to $10,000.

"The holidays are traditionally a time for parties and celebrating, but people should remember that these new DUI laws were passed for a reason. Statistics show why we needed stricter laws to keep drunk drivers off the roads—during 1986 approximately 800 people in Illinois were killed in vehicle accidents involving drinking drivers," Sen. Geo-Karis said. "Nationwide, it's estimated that more than 23,000 people were killed in such accidents."

Listed below are other national traffic safety facts and the effects of alcohol:

—Someone is killed in an alcohol-related crash every 23 minutes.

—Between 10 p.m. at 3 a.m. on Friday or Saturday night, one of every 10 drivers is legally drunk. In fatal accidents involving single vehicle, almost two-thirds (64 percent) of the drivers are legally drunk.

—Almost 60 percent of fatally injured teenage drivers were found to have been drinking prior to their crash.

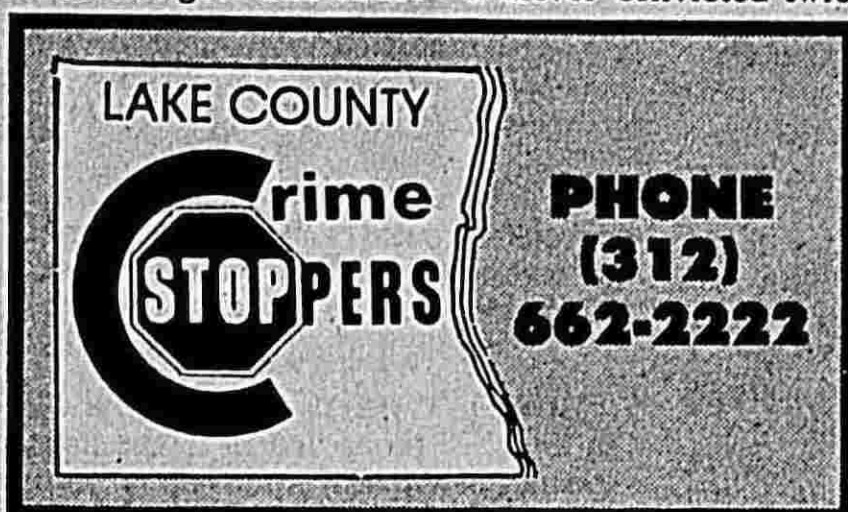

From the first drink, alcohol affects coordination and judgment. People should be aware that even moderate amounts of alcohol can affect their driving ability. The legal definition of driving under the influence involves a blood alcohol concentration (BAC) of .10, but medical reports and driving demonstrations have shown that most people function at an impaired level when their BAC reaches .05.

Studies also show that the chances of a driver with a BAC of .05 being involved in an accident more than double. These numbers increase as the BAC increases, with a driver with a BAC of .20 being 100 times more likely to have an accident.

"I hope people remember these facts and have a happy and safe holiday season. This new law will hopefully let people know we are serious about keeping drunk drivers off the road and making the roads safer for everyone," Sen. Geo-Karis said.

Crime Stoppers and the Sheriff's Department Warrants Division are seeking information on the whereabouts of one Ray Lee King and his brother Clarence Henry King. They are wanted for failure to appear in court.

Ray is described as being a white male, age 30, five feet, eight inches and weighing 135 lbs. Clarence is described as being age 35, five feet, 10 inches and weighing 140 pounds.

Anyone having any information concerning this crime or any crime, call Crime Stoppers at (312) 662-2222.

Should the information lead to an arrest and indictment, the caller will be eligible for a cash reward up to $1,000.

Straightening out building

The County of Lake approaches building code enforcement and zoning regulations from a much different viewpoint than the 49 municipalities of the county.

That more than anything accounts for what amounts to a double standard on code enforcement and the crux of frustration of a growing number of citizens in unincorporated areas over the operations of the Lake County Building Dept. under Director Robert Streicher.

Dissatisfaction with Streicher and his administration has resulted in the formation of Lake County Citizens for Better Building and Zoning. The fledgling organization has scheduled its first public meeting to focus on discontent Saturday, Jan. 9.

Municipal building commissioners approach their job with a bias toward strict compliance with local building and zoning ordinances. In our opinion, the Streicher administration approaches code enforcement with a bias favoring citizen accommodation. Putting the difference another way, in the typical Lake County village potential violators are viewed as being guilty until proven innocent. In the county, potential violators are treated as innocent until proven guilty. The opposite viewpoints result in a broad difference in enforcement.

"I've got 24 bosses," exclaims Streicher, referring to the members of the Lake County Board. Local building inspectors have one boss, the mayor responsible for appointing the building inspector.

Variables involving code enforcement are further illustrated by the fact that the local village building officer is performing in the atmosphere of a unified philosophy on building and zoning. With no intention of defending Streicher, the fact is that he has to deal with a polyglot of ideas and theories as many and varied as the members of the County Board.

The differences in philosophy and style have produced what can best be described as a mess in the way building and zoning is handled in unincorporated areas of the county. We don't have an answer as to how to straighten out the confusion, but we do know that it would help if every member of the Lake County Board knew what is going on in building and zoning.

Giving recycling a try

Officials of DuPage County, Illinois' second most populous county, probably are correct in believing that they are setting the pace for dealing with solid waste disposal in the collar counties.

DuPage County, with mushroom growth surpassing Lake County, will be creating at least five regional recycling centers over the next three years in an effort to stem the volume of garbage being generated. It is anticipated that householders will be separating in trash cans such things as bottles, cans and plastic from combustibles.

Some political leaders believe the recycling project, originally voluntary, eventually will become mandatory. They envision that incineration eventually will become part of the county's waste disposal system.

Without a doubt, public officials in Lake County studying waste disposal, will be watching the DuPage recycling plan closely. Recycling will require individual effort to work. Greater citizen involvement may be the key to solving the waste disposal problem which is only a few years away from becoming a crisis. The average person still doesn't realize how serious a problem waste disposal has become.

Campbell's strategic role

Small privately owned general aviation airports long have been on the endangered species list. Now it appears that these ties to the "flying by the seat of the pants" days, dealing with modern economics, are ticketed for the vanishing species list.

Ironically, the remaining general aviation airports in operation, particularly those in metropolitan areas, are viewed as strategically important

"safety valves" to provide alternatives to mushrooming air traffic.

Campbell Airport, located in Fremont Twp. south of Grayslake and Round Lake Park, is one of the remaining small airports in private hands seen by transportation experts having potential to provide for needs of aviation in the future. Campbell would play an important role in a three-tier system with O'Hare Airport at the top and airports like Waukegan Memorial in an important secondary position.

At this point, aviation officials are concerned about taking steps to "protect" the small airports and keep them from falling into the hands of real estate developers. Transferring the airports from private ownership to a governmental entity is the best way of insuring that the small airports remain as airports. That's exactly what officials of the Village of Round Lake Park are considering.

With assistance from a federal grant, Round Lake Park has initiated a comprehensive study by Ralph Burke Associates, one of the nation's foremost aviation consulting firms. It's practically a foregone conclusion that the Burke study of Campbell will be affirmative, but detailed analysis is necessary to determine exactly what steps can be taken to perpetuate Campbell for public use.

Mayor George Scherer of Round Lake Park is excited about Campbell's potential to serve an area including Mundelein, Lake Zurich, Antioch and McHenry for commercial purposes along with providing a base for recreation flyers all over northeastern Illinois. We agree wholeheartedly with Scherer's assertion that an upgraded Campbell is a key part of the economic future of the entire west side of Lake County and east McHenry County.

The Burke report will be completed sometime in 1988. We are looking forward with anticipation to the findings.

Volo Bog offers rare experience for wintertime

by BILL SCHROEDER

If you're looking for something different to do during the holidays, a guaranteed unique outdoor experience awaits at the Volo Bog State Natural Area, 28378 W. Brandenburg Rd.

At 2 p.m. Saturday, Dec. 26, Park Interpreter Stacy Miller will debut "Volo Bog: A Winter Wonderland," a guided tour approximately one hour in length that will introduce you to the centuries old flora and fauna of the nature area, a sort of living time capsule in our bustling suburban area.

"I'm hoping there'll be snow on the ground. The snow heightens the serenity of the bog and enables us to see the wildlife tracks," exclaimed Miller, a native of Michigan who is one of five interpreters at Illinois natural areas.

Saturday, Jan. 2, volunteers will start conducting weekend guided tours of the bog tucked off Rte. 12 a short distance north of Volo. Miller described the winter bog as being "so different" from any other time of year. The famed Volo tamaracks, a distinct variety of evergreen, will be denuded of their needles. Devoid of all other foliage, the bog takes on a stark, unworldly appearance.

The bog visitors' center is open weekends only during the winter. Otherwise, Volo Bog is open daily except Thanksgiving and Christmas.

The addition of full color to page one has been one of the major advances made by this newspaper in recent years. Our editors constantly are on the look out for subject material. If you have any photo ideas, please give them a call at (312)223-8161.

NOT IMMUNE—The pot of protest over abuses and inequities in Lake County building and zoning laws in unincorporated areas is beginning to boil. Few citizens can say they're not affected. Discussing the situation the other day, State Rep. Robert Churchill (R-Lake Villa) remarked that a pole barn located on a highway corner near his home doesn't enhance the neighborhood scenery. "But it's a commercial corner and the building is legal so I guess it'll stay," Churchill opined.

HOLIDAY MAIL—Thought you'd like to know... there are 19 towns around the nation with Christmas theme names where you can send mail for a postmark with a seasonal touch on your Christmas cards and letters.

NEW FACE—The 1988 presidential campaign has brought forth a new face on the local political scene. He is Bradley B. Hansen, a candidate for delegate from the 12th Congressional Dist. in the Republican primary in March in support of Rep. Jack Kemp.

Hansen, a resident of Lake Zurich, is in business management and is preparing to enter law school. He grew up in Winnetka, where he graduated from New Trier East High School. Hansen sees economic issues as overriding in the '88 campaign and he views Kemp as best suited to lead the U.S. into a prosperous future.

With most of the GOP delegates in this locality focused on the Bush and Dole camps, Hansen will probably come off as a voice in the wilderness. Similar individual efforts in the past have fostered some prominent political careers so it will be interesting to see how Hansen develops his campaign.

ONE MAN'S FAMILY—With three married children, Christmas will be more like a homecoming in our household this year. One of the differences is a decision to draw names for the gift exchange. The budget-conscious newlyweds think this is fine, but Bob isn't so sure. We'll see. Since the paper will be out early next week, reaching your home before Christmas, we'll take advantage of a double opportunity to extend holiday greetings from the Schroeder family. Merry Christmas to all. Warm wishes for a happy holiday.

Democrat Prindle would rather switch than fight

RON PRINDLE, A trustee in Round Lake Beach, a Democratic Precinct Committeeman, the Avon Twp. Democratic Chairman, and Sergeant-at-Arms on the Democratic Central Committee has switched. On Monday, he formally announced his conversion to the Republican Party and filed nominating papers to run for Republican Precinct Committeeman.

Lake County Republican Chairman Bob Neal was on hand at the courthouse to welcome Prindle into the party. Just as Prindle was filing, Lake County Democratic Chairman Jay Ukena walked in.

Ukena said, "Ron (Prindle) made whatever opportunistic decision he wanted to. He wants to run for Avon Twp. Sup. and the non-(Norm) Geary Republicans told him this is what he had to do to get their support. It's an example of expedient politics over belief in government."

Prindle said Ukena was misled about his future plans. "I have no immediate plans to run for any other office besides committeeman," Prindle said. "I was raised a Chicago Democrat, so that's what I always was. Philosophically, though, I am a Republican. And the Republicans are the ones who get things done. Serving on the Democratic Central Committee, I discovered the Democrats can't even get a press release done, much less anything important."

Neal said, "After extensive discussions with Ron, I am convinced that his philosophy is Republican. As chairman of the Republican Party, I certainly welcome him. I think this is a very important day for Lake County."

LAKE COUNTY DEMOCRATIC Chairman Jay Ukena stopped for breakfast last week and covered a lot of ground. He noted that times are a lot tougher for Democrats these days than they were back in the '70s.

In 1974, he noted, Watergate was fresh in everyone's mind, Republican Sheriff Orville "Pat" Clavey was just about to be indicted, and local Republicans had been tainted with a few other scandals.

In the '80s, President Ronald Reagan has done wonders for the straight Republican vote.

Ukena believes the party will have a much better year in 1988. While he is realistic in conceding that Antioch attorney Robert Long and Round Lake Heights Trustee Julia Edwards will have an uphill battle in trying to unseat State's Atty. Fred Foreman and Circuit Court Clerk Sally Coffelt, respectively, he was enthusiastic in predicting that Antioch resident Grant Farrell can unseat incumbent State Rep. Robert Churchill (R-Lake Villa).

ATHEIST GADFLY ROB Sherman of Buffalo Grove has been getting kicked around by the media pretty well lately. Many think he deserves it. I do not.

I am a fundamentalist Christian (roots in the south, you know), or maybe a modified fundamentalist Christian. Sherman's philosophy is certainly anathema to most who share the Judeo-Christian ethic. Of less concern than what Sherman says, though, is the response of his opponents and how that response relates to their faith.

For a Christian, to be filled with wrath and anger at Sherman seems inappropriate. Jesus taught tolerance. There is nothing Sherman can do that would alter my faith. The religious training of my children is my responsibility until the time that it becomes their own.

If Sherman is successful in removing creches and other religious symbols from government property, does that endanger anyone's faith?

Certainly, there is a question of what a nativity scene on government property represents. Such things are religious in nature, but they also represent a common, cultural heritage. If they are displayed as religious symbols, there is little doubt they are unconstitutional. If they are displayed as part of the cultural heritage, they do not violate the Constitution. The trouble is how to separate what is religious from what is historical and cultural. That is a Gordian Knot.

Instead of forcing governmental entities to remove such symbols at this time of year, why not offer them the option of putting up symbols from other religions if someone from their community so requests. The United States was not based on the idea of no religion - it was based on a pluralism which allows the free practice of any faith. Isn't this solution more in keeping with the spirit of America than the banishment of all religious symbols?

The current caricature of Sherman as a fringe fanatic is not accurate. I believe he is wrong, but he is an intelligent, articulate man who believes in his cause. In any case, the proper response of the faithful to Sherman is not wrath and anger, but prayer and tolerance. And we might say a prayer asking why, when Jesus teaches us to turn the other cheek, we worry so about Sherman when each of us has enough to worry about with our own souls

Letters To The Editor

Fighting drinking

Editor:

We supported the observance of "Drunk and Drugged Driving Awareness Week" Dec. 13-19. The theme "First a Friend, Then a Host," with emphasis on the designated driver, is very appropriate. This observance is very close and dear to us. On Sunday, Nov. 7, an accident occurred that involved a very close friend, student and classmate, Lou Ann Spencer. The adult occupant in her car was killed—an alcohol-involved crash.

About two-thirds of all people killed in alcohol-involved crashes are drivers or pedestrians who had been drinking; while one-third are innocent victims, drivers or non-occupants (primarily pedestrians and bicyclists) and passengers in either vehicle. Approximately 50 percent of all traffic fatalities occur in alcohol-related crashes. This means that more than 23,000 lives are lost each year in alcohol-related crashes. About 560,000 people are injured each year in alcohol-related crashes, 43,000 of them seriously (NHTSA/National Center for Statistics and Analysis, August, 1986).

Alcohol, a mind-altering drug that works as a sedative, changes the way a person thinks and acts. It affects judgement and coordination, and is a factor in 50 percent of America's highway deaths. In 1986, more than 23,000 Americans died in alcohol-related crashes. It is a well-known fact that alcohol increases the sedative effect of tranquilizers and barbiturates. Mixing these drugs, on or off the road, is extremely hazardous. Even caffeine, a stimulant in coffee and tea, which is supposed to help the drowsy driver stay alert, cannot make an impaired driver sober. Studies show that caffeine does not improve an inebriated subject's driving. You simply have a wide-awake drunk on your hands (National Clearinghouse Drug Abuse Information).

The most dangerous times on highways and streets during the holidays are from 6 p.m. on Dec. 24 through midnight on Sunday, Dec. 27; and from 6 p.m. Dec. 31 through midnight Sunday, Jan. 3, 1988. If you must serve alcohol, remember: "First a friend, then a host."

If you must drink, don't drive. The life you take may be your own.

Thanks for testing

Editor:

While shopping, I was approached by Fox Lake Lions Club member Al Gort to sign up for the Club's glaucoma testing which was taking place outside the store in the mobile trailer.

Since I am 37 years old I wondered what importance a glaucoma test could have for me. I felt this was something for senior citizens. However, as Mr. Gort persisted and wore away my excuses, I gave in and took the test which was completed in about eight minutes. Much to my surprise, it was found that I should see my eye doctor as the pressure level of my eye was above the normal range, making me a possible candidate for glaucoma.

As recommended, I saw my doctor who will monitor me so that I will not fall victim to this disease. (A person developing glaucoma may experience no symptoms, and untreated glaucoma can lead to blindness.)

I want to thank the Lions Club of Fox Lake for one more of their special services to the community, and of course, a special thanks to Al Gort who realized that glaucoma testing is important for all of us.

Schools receive funds for conservation studies

The state has awarded $5.5 million from oil overcharge funds to public schools statewide for energy conservation studies and improvements, Gov. James R. Thompson has announced.

"Energy conservation grants for schools are the most cost-effective investments made by the state," Thompson said.

"Since these grants pay for the full cost of energy projects, it frees up school funds for educational programs."

The Department of Energy and Natural Resources has awarded 88 school districts $4.5 million for energy-efficient improvements in 179 buildings and nearly $1 million has been committed to 30 districts for technical studies of 134 buildings. Districts receiving grants for conservation measures have already been technically evaluated.

"Often minimal improvements to the schools, such as automatic energy controls, insulation, weatherstripping and energy-efficient lights, save a sizable chunk of energy dollars," Thompson said.

The awards have been granted through ENR's $30 million Illinois Institutional Conservation Program, funded by the state's share of the stripper well oil overcharge settlement. In the stripper well case, a federal court ordered companies to reimburse their customers for overcharging for oil from old low-production wells. The court also ruled that the states must spend the money on energy-related projects benefiting consumers of petroleum products.

Since the program began earlier this year, the department has awarded $16.4 million to public school districts.

Lake County schools receiving funds were:

Gavin S.D. 37, $3,738; Township H.S.D. 113, $40,000; Fox Lake G.S.D. 114, $8,424; Wauconda C.U.S.D. 118, $17,444; Gavin S.D. 37, $6,825; Hawthorn C.C.S.D. 73, $27,020; Fox Lake G.S.D. 114, $15,787; Wauconda C.U.S.D. 118, $35,953; Grant Comm. BUSINESS BRIEFS

Antioch

Customers across the country may now call Century 21 Michael Warren & Co. on toll-free 800 lines. Michael Warren, broker-owner, said, "With the growth of Antioch and the surrounding communities there is much more interest in transferring executives to locate in this area." The new number is (800) 322-5901. The number is being circulated throughout the country in Century 21 offices and International Relocation Consultants, a group in which Warren is a member. The company is celebrating its 15th year in business in the Antioch area. It has 17 full-time agents.

Lake County

United States Gypsum laid off 80 salaried employees at its Libertyville Research Center on Dec. 14. That amounts to a cutback of a third of the center's 240 employees. Gypsum, the largest subsidiary of the Chicago-based holding company, USG, said the move was made to improve the company's "operational efficiency and competitive position." Company spokesmen said the company is strong, but pointed to a need for increased efficiencies in view of the uncertainty of the economy and the building industry in 1988. Technicians, secretaries and professional people were included in the layoffs. Companywide several hundred jobs are expected to be eliminated. USG said the move will save $24 million in overhead beginning in 1988. A special $8 million severance program will be charged against fourth-quarter profits and used to soften the blow for those employees suddenly without jobs just before Christmas.

Mundelein

Mundelein resident Joseph Stubel has been promoted to director of purchasing at Kitchens of Sara Lee, reporting to Senior Vice-President Oreste J. Boscia. Stubel joined the frozen baked goods manufacturer in 1979 as purchasing manager for packaging materials. He served as purchasing manager of packaging/capital equipment and group purchasing manager prior to his recent appointment. A graduate of DePaul University, Stubel began his career as a buyer for Strange Co. and he served as director of purchasing for the food products division of CFS Continental Inc. prior to coming to Kitchens of Sara Lee.

Bi-State

Ray Brinkley, owner of Ray's World, 1707 Washington St., Waukegan and 120 N. Green St., McHenry taught a culinary class at The Abbey on Lake Geneva in Fontana, Wis. It was for the annual Food and Wine Fest which featured cooking classes by culinary experts preparing fresh and creative, plain and fancy fare. Brinkley was chosen as one of four instructors from throughout the midwest.

Some 60 local science and health educators studied AIDS, herpes, hepatitis, chlamydia and other sexually transmitted diseases (STDs) during a six-session course at Abbott Laboratories. Participating teachers learned about current research in STDs in order to enrich their curriculum and help them answer students' questions. Teachers represented 20 schools in the northern Illinois area.

For Welton, success is home grown

by IRIS MAYFIELD

Public servant, entrepreneur and father of seven. A tough balancing act for anyone, but Gurnee's Dick Welton does just fine, thank you.

As Mayor of Gurnee, he was a driving force bringing Great America to his hometown. As an entrepreneur, he is the successful owner of Welton's County Market in Gurnee, opened Cub Foods in Mundelein last year, and plans to open yet another Cub Foods Store in Round Lake next spring. As a father, well, he spends enough time in the public eye and would prefer to keep his private affairs private.

Welton's steps to success are a logical progression of the growth he has applied to his business, political and personal life. But, then, when you know at age seven or eight that you want to be mayor of your hometown and an entrepreneur in the grocery business, it's logical to assume success.

Welton is one of eight children who make up Welton Management Services, and he is the chief executive officer. The family manages three stores.

The original family store, Welton's Food Mart at 4272 W. Grand Ave. in Gurnee, was run by Dick's father who took over from a relative in 1953. His three brothers and four sisters also worked in the store. As a boy, he took out the garbage, stocked shelves and bagged groceries.

In 1979 the family opened Welton's County Market at 3555 Grand Ave. It was originally a warehouse store. "The idea sprang out of a recession economy. It was a new concept on how to control costs," Welton said. "We expanded and continued expanding and were successful."

Having lived in Gurnee all his life, a sense of the community is an integral part of his native business sense. The County Market has a shop and share program that benefits non-profit and charitable organizations. It also assists other groups that have spaghetti dinners or pancake breakfasts for fund-raising. "We give to the United Way and I encourage my employees, both Gurnee and Mundelein, to participate in community work," Welton said.

Welton said his biggest business challenge was competing with the chains. "We needed the most modern, up-to-date, super store in the country today," he said. So, the Weltons are starting their own chain and linking themselves to the Cub Food chain.

Hard-charging executive beats odds

For Thomas J. McCook, this Christmas will be especially bright. A resident of Ingleside, McCook retired in January as vice-president and general manager of the Alemite and Instrument Divisions of the Chicago-based Stewart-Warner Corp. His retirement was not voluntary - he had cancer. He is okay now, though.

McCook joined the Alemite and Instrument Divisions in March, 1959 as a project engineer. From there, his rise in the company was rapid.

He was promoted to the increasingly important positions of chief instrument engineer, assistant director of engineering, assistant to the general manager, and assistant director of manufacturing for the Alemite and Instrument Divisions.

In June, 1970, he became general manager of the Hobbs Division and was elected a corporate vice-president in November, 1972. He was appointed general manager of the Alemite and Instrument Divisions in May, 1973. He held that position until his retirement in January.

During his career, he had more than 5,000 employees reporting to him. His education included engineering degrees from the U.S. Naval Academy and Purdue.

Since the hard-charging businessman's recovery, his business affiliation is with the Speedfam Corp. of DesPlaines, manufacturers of machine tools.

Dolan's fish make move to new, spacious home

Harry Dolan's "nomadic fish" are finally in their new home, never more to roam.

Dolan Associates has emptied out a small lake at the new $50 million College Park of Bannockburn office park near the intersection of I-94 and Rte. 22, then transported over 3,000 bluegills, largemouth bass and catfish to a larger new lake in the Green Oaks Corporate Center that Dolan is developing at the intersection of I-94 and Rte. 176.

"The fish were upgraded to a much better ecosystem, from an eight-foot deep, one and one-half acre lake at College Park to a 30-foot deep, six-acre lake at Green Oaks, said Harry L. Dolan, president.

The transport of the 3,000-plus fish was very successful, said Ted Werenski of Richmond Fisheries, who, with his brother Tom, engineered the project.

First the small lake was drained to a depth of about three feet. Then the Werenski's shocked the pond with a moderate electric charge so the fish would rise to the surface and not burrow in the mud. A gas-driven generator placed in a rowboat created the electricity, and the boat was slowly moved around the lake while the Richmond Fisheries crew hand-netted the fish.

The lake was then pumped down to one foot in depth, and the remaining fish were seined out. Sizes of the "catch" ranged from small fry to a large mouth bass in excess of six pounds.

All of the fish were held in oxygenated holding tanks on Richmond Fisheries' special transport truck, where they revived immediately. They were then driven to Green Oaks and deposited in their large new lake.

The Werenski's and Dolan expect that all of the fish will grow quickly in their new lake home, since the size of a lake determines the physical size and number of its fish population.

The small Bannockburn lake was originally dug and stocked by the adjacent Trinity College in the mid-seventies, and provided sport fishing for Trinity's students over the years.

Previously, Dolan had moved fish from an existing pond at the $60 million Green Oaks Corporate Center, which was drained, to a third Dolan project, the $100 million Lincolnshire Business Center industrial park.

When College Park of Bannockburn is completed in 1988, Dolan Associates will freshly stock a new five-acre manmade lake on that site, once again providing sport fishing for students as well as village residents and office complex employees.

"There will be no more moving days for our fish population," said Dolan, adding, "They're all home to stay."

For more information about Dolan Associates' three new projects, call (312) 945-6600.

Nomadic fish

Tom and Ted Werenski of Richmond Fisheries net fish from pond on site of Dolan Associates' College Park of Bannockburn business park, left, then dump their catch into oxygenated holding tanks before transporting fish to new, larger lake at Dolan's Green Oaks Corporate Center five miles away. Looking on is Harry L. Dolan, president of Bannockburn Real Estate Development and Investment Co.

Marriott Hotels receives honor as top hotel chain

For the third year in a row, Marriott Hotels and Resorts has been named the "top hotel chain" in a survey conducted by one of the industry's leading travel trade publications, "Business Travel News."

A total of 1,831 corporate travel planners responded to questions on 74 different hotel systems, and Marriott retained its position as the top hotel chain by accumulating the best overall average score (4.14 out of a possible 5.00).

Marriott achieved this year's ranking by placing first in five of 11 service categories:

-Quality of facilities for non-resort meetings (score-4.33)

-Quality of facilities for resort meetings (score-4.39)

-Quality of frequent travel program (score-4.12)

-Ease in arranging group travel/meetings (score-4.21)

-Quality of corporate discount program (score-3.76)

A score of five stood for excellent.

According to "Business Travel News," Marriott Hotels and Resorts placed in the top 25 of all 11 categories and "beat out" such chains as Hyatt, Hilton, Four Seasons, InterContinental and Westlin.

Explaining Marriott's success, the publication quotes Randall A. Smith, president of Smith Travel Research, as saying, "Marriott is known for its service, and they go to a great extent to make sure they maintain their service levels."

Especially important to business travelers, are Marriott's first place ratings in corporate discount and frequent travel programs. Marriott's corporate rate discount is available to business travelers at 175 hotels and resorts in 112 cities worldwide. In addition, Marriott Honored Guest Awards celebrates its fourth anniversary this November and is recognized as the industry's richest frequent traveler program enabling over 1.7 million members to earn free vacations.

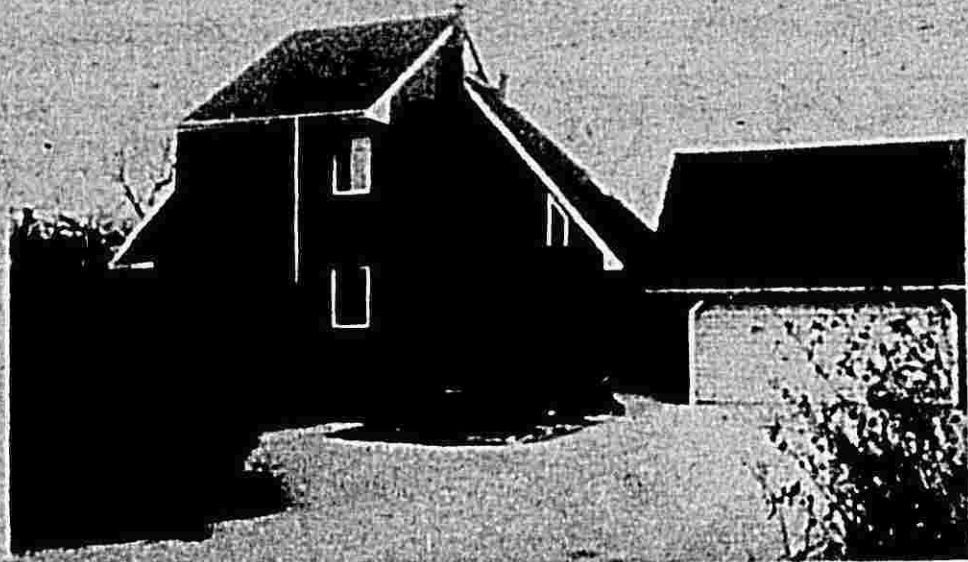

Business scholarships

The American Business Women's Assn. (ABWA) awards thousands of dollars each year in scholarships. Local chapters in Lake County have awarded $66,000. The newly formed "County of Lake" chapter of ABWA will award a scholarship each month and choose a student of the year at the end of the school year. Students must live and go to school in Lake County to be eligible. To apply, students must write a letter explaining why they should be student of the month and describe their educational goals. Applications must be sent by the 30th of each month to: Mrs. Margaret Keenan, 1110 Pacific Ave., Waukegan, 60085.

Welton

They opened the Mundelein Cub store in November 1986 and plan to open a Round Lake Cub store in November 1988. Future expansion plans include stores in Lake Zurich and Waukegan.

Funding was the biggest obstacle to overcome in growing, Welton said. "We did it in steps, from 3,000 to 5,000 square feet. This store (County Market) was half the size it is now. We borrowed money to open the Mundelein store, which was the first time we had a new store," he said.

While leading his family through their business successes with logic and determination, Dick Welton was also climbing a ladder of political success. He became a trustee on the village board in 1970. In 1973, the little boy who dreamed of being mayor became mayor.

Economic council gets state development grant

The Lake County Economic Development Commission has been awarded $40,967 through the Illinois Corridors of Opportunity program, according to Gov. James R. Thompson. It is one of 21 regional development organizations to share $1.3 million.

The funds represent Fiscal Year 1988 appropriations to the 21 local Corridors councils in cities and counties with populations under a million. A separate appropriation funds councils in communities with populations over one million. Grants are awarded through the Dept. of Commerce and Community Affairs (DCCA), which administers the Corridors program.

"Although the Corridors of Opportunity is less than two years old, it has received enthusiastic acceptance," Thompson said. "Citizens throughout Illinois have recognized the benefits of taking a regional approach to economic development, drawing upon their mutual strengths to attract jobs to their regions."

"Many Corridors councils have completed feasibility studies and are now ready to begin their marketing efforts; others are undertaking studies to pinpoint specific activities that can enhance development opportunities."

The Corridors of Opportunity and Development Act was adopted by the General Assembly in 1986. The legislation emphasizes the regional, multi-county, multi-municipality approach to economic development.

Jay R. Hedges, director of DCCA, said approved funding uses include feasibility studies, marketing plans and promotional materials for the purpose of assisting each individual Corridors council in the development and implementation of marketing programs and development strategies. Regions are required to provide matching funds and in-kind contributions and resources to further the regional economic development.

Welton reflected back on his high school and college days and how they pointed him to his future. During his high school days "kids would say, 'nice town - but no future here.' No one planned to stay in the community." Now Welton boasts of jobs, low and high-income family housing, townhomes and condominiums. He further boasts of Gurnee's excellent services, including police and fire departments and public works.

He graduated from Carthage College with a business degree. His minor? You guessed it - political science.

"We wanted to build a community of opportunity and things are the same in business as in politics," Welton said. First, the citizen or customer is number one. "If you serve these people, they'll have confidence. You work for them."

Second, develop team work. "You have to have a lot of people helping you. I'm fortunate and have good people working with me," he said, noting that everybody shares thoughts and ideas, working together to reach goals.

Third, "You provide a degree of leadership for everyone to work together. Consider the needs of customers, team or community. Jointly set and work hard to accomplish goals."

Welton thinks Gurnee has the opportunity to control its own future. "Only the best things are allowed in. We won't settle for second best," he repeats.

He gave as an example the presence of Great America in Gurnee, saying, "We worked with the citizens to see if it would benefit the community in taxes and jobs." He said Great America has cut the tax rate to less than half while providing better services.

Welton said, "We have better services now, but half the taxes."

Dick and his wife, Debbie, have seven children, ages seven to 23. Three of their children work at the County Market taking out the garbage, stocking shelves and bagging groceries.

On stage

"La Cage Aux Folles" has just opened at the Candelight Dinner Theatre in at 55th and Harlem in Summit. America's first, and still one of its finest, dinner theaters, premiered the gala musical on Dec. 17.

To put everyone in the Christmas spirit, Ruth Page's production of "The Nutcracker" is still playing at the Arle Crown Theatre at McCormick Place, Chicago, through Dec. 27. Richard Ellis is appearing as Herr Drosselmeyer for the 17th year in a row. This particular version of the Tchaikovsky Christmas classic also has some talented Lake County kids in it.

Keith Reddin's "Big Time" will be on stage at the Remains Theatre at Goodman Theatre's studio space, from Dec. 26 until Jan. 17.

Still in the holiday tradition, The Nebraska Theatre Caravan's musical version of Charles Dickens' "A Christmas Carol," can be seen at the Paramount Arts Center, Aurora, at 3 p.m., on Sunday, Dec. 20.

Be there!

Don't forget one of the most breathtaking local holiday sights — The Festival of Lights, at the LaSalle Center just east of Twin Lakes.

On Sunday, Dec. 20, from 8 a.m. to 2 p.m., the Lake County Gun Collectors Show will be at the Lake County Fairgrounds in Graylake.

Nature lovers can take part in the "Winter Wonderland" program at the Volo Bog State Natural Area in Ingleside, at 2 p.m., on Saturday, Dec. 20.

Musical notes

Lovers of the Broadway music of George Gershwin, Cole Porter, Irving Berlin and Richard Rogers and Lorenz Hart should rush and get tickets for the Woodstock Opera House's presentation of the spectacular musical revue, "Say It With Music," featuring Rita Gardner, set to hit the boards at the opera house on Friday and Saturday, Jan. 8 and 9, at 8 p.m. with a 2 p.m. matinee on Saturday.

Speaking of planning to get tickets in advance, area jazz lovers might be interested in the fact that The Clock Tower Resort in Rockford has the Third Annual Jazz Festival on its agenda, starting Jan. 15-17. Slated for appearances at the festival are such jazz greats as Anita O'Day, Wild Bill Davison (celebrating his 82nd birthday), The Original Salty Dogs Jazz Band with Carol Leigh, Barrett Deems, Bud Freeman, Chuck Hodges, Johnnie Faren and more. Those interested can call (815) 398-4400.

Good taste

Hungry men and women too can still get in on the December special at Andres Steak and Seafood House on Rte. 12 in Richmond and Andres On the Bay in Fox Lake. It's a Kansas City Steak plus for $8.95.

Art Institute holiday images

Parts of the permanent art collection at the Art Institute in Chicago lend themselves to holiday spirit such as "The Adoration of the Christ Child," by Jacob Cornelisz van Amsterdam, painted in 1520. Black and white images may be taken directly from the photo composite. Color slides are available and may be obtained by calling (312) 443-3664. All images used should credit the artist and the Art Institute. A trip over the holiday through the institute where old and new masters on display seem 'Christmassy' enough to be used on Christmas cards. Others on display in the same holiday vein are "Love of Winter," by George Bellows and "The Praying Jew" by Marc Chagall.

Pegasus to hold art show to benefit area's dissident Russian artists

by GLORIA DAVIS

Last week, the visit paid the United States and President Reagan by Russian leader Mikhail Gorbachev, was viewed with interest, hope and much skepticism by U.S. citizens.

In Barrington, one rather new American citizen, Lara Kobrinsky Cummings, a former Soviet citizen, was especially interested in the part of the talks between the two world leaders that centered on human rights.

Cummings left the Soviet Union in 1980 because of its attitude towards human rights, fleeing with her two children, Rena and Boris, to this country feeling that the freedom afforded people here was what she wanted for them.

She ended up in the Chicago area with family members, Park Ridge to be exact, and in 1981, after meeting blind Russian exile Haym Korzavin, who was a poet having a hard time finding an American audience for his works, she decided to do something for people from her homeland now here in the United States, especially artists and creative people.

Ergo the formation of an organization called Pegasus that is devoted to helping Russians, especially Russian artists, not only those now in the United States, but also those who are trying to get out of the Soviet Union and make their home here for the same reasons that Cummings did.

The fact that creative people are usually non-conformists and free thinkers has brought persecution by the Soviet government to the doors of many Russian artists, writers and musicians.

All the monies raised through the efforts of Pegasus go directly to the artists to help them in their new life in the United States, especially in furthering their careers.

Pegasus will hold a Christmas exhibition of Russian art at its new location in Barrington at 26180 Willow Rd., from 11 a.m. to 5 p.m. on Dec. 18, 19, 20 and 21.

Paintings, tapestries, ceramics, graphics, icons, clothes designs, lacquer boxes and other handicrafts, all done by Russian artists who are now living in the United States, will be on display and for sale. Proceeds will go to the artists and to help Pegasus' work.

A little more European authenticity will be lent to the occasion by the serving of Russian tea from a samovar along with some holiday sweets.

Because she was a structural engineer in Russia, Cummings herself actually led a pretty good life by Russian standards. It was her dislike of the religious and cultural persecution and the very lack of those human rights that led her to seek a new life in the United States.

Although reports are that the two world leaders made little or no progress on the subject of religious and cultural suppression in the USSR, Cummings and the 11 members of Pegasus are now lighting their one little candle in Barrington for their countrymen already here and also trying to enlist the aid, not only of their new country, but of many others, to sway the Russian government towards allowing other people like themselves to leave the Soviet Union if they want to.

Pegasus has recently gotten involved in the horrendous task of trying to get imprisoned Soviet religious and cultural dissidents released from Siberia and/or exile and so far has been successful in gaining the release of five of them including religious newspaper publisher Zoya Krakhamalnikova, whom Pegasus is still trying to get out of the Soviet Union.

The name of the group comes from the legend that when the winged horse Pegasus struck his hooves into the earth, three fountains were formed which inspired people to write poetry, thus the cultural tie and the continuation of the legend that tells of Pegasus taking flight to the Kingdom of the Gods symbolizes the group's fight for their countrymen's flight to freedom.

'Fantasticks' star to 'Say It With Music' at Opera

The original star of "The Fantasticks," Rita Gardner, will make her debut appearance at the Woodstock Opera House in "Say It With Music" at 8 p.m. on Friday and Saturday, Jan. 8 and 9, and a 2 p.m. matinee on Saturday.

The '20s are reflected through the theatre songs of the period, a portrait of an age emerging. From the first, innocent stirrings of a newly awakening country, after the long and fitful night of the World War, to the pulsing, carefree rhythms of a party about to start, and on through the celebration, to the ever-quickenning quest for madder music and stronger wine.

An age of success, and excess. Of bootleggers and bathtub gin. Of innocence, freely lost, and sophistication—even disillusionment—too dearly purchased.

"Say It With Music" has been called "an impressionistic chronology of that wonderfully wacked-out decade. Through the eyes of a Fitzgerald character called 'The Debutante,' we move from the frivolity of 'Innocent Ingenue' on through the wild nights of 'Crazy Rhythm'; and on, from debutante to flapper, to torch singer, with the soulful 'Why Was I Born' and 'More Than You Know.' One watches a nation going inexorably down that primrose path that led eventually to the shattering reality of the Great Depression.

The critics have cheered. One called it "hauntingly effective... structured with all the beautiful, delicate symmetry of a spider's web." A song cycle that is really a life cycle—that has as much relevance to the naive optimism and dashed hopes of the '60s as it has to the era of the flapper."

"Say It With Music" was first presented at the Circle Rep in New York, where it sold out its limited run in a matter of hours. Most recently it opened to rave reviews and sold-out houses at New York's Ballroom, where it extended twice by popular demand.

The show is now touring nationally, prior to an off-Broadway opening next year.

Gardner first came to theatrical prominence when she stepped into the spotlight at New York's Sullivan St. Theatre as the original "girl" in "The Fantasticks."

That cast album, one of the largest-selling of any musical, has made her known all over the world. Many Broadway and off-Broadway shows followed, including "A Family Affair," "Ben Franklin in Paris," "On a Clear Day," "To Be Young, Gifted and Black," and "Pal Joey." Antioch-amy

Interlaken will ring in New Year in big way

To welcome in 1988, Interlaken Resort and Country Spa, Lake Geneva, is offering a special New Year's Eve two-night package for $300 per couple, including taxes and gratuities.

This package is available for either Dec. 30 and 31 or Dec. 31 and Jan. 1, and provides a deluxe room for two with use of the pool, spa and facilities of the resort.

In addition, there will be a gala New Year's Eve Party, including reception with hors d'oeuvres, lobster and prime rib dinner buffet, open bar (including champagne and wines) all evening, dancing to the music of 'The Heaters' and party favors.

For guests choosing to stay over one night only, a limited number of one night packages, including all of the above activities, are available for Dec. 31, at $240 per couple, including tax and gratuities.

Interlaken is bustling in holiday style with a unique Santa's Workshop display allowing guests to peek through shop windows to view the excitement of Santa and his elves at work making toys. Throughout the lodge snowflakes, lights and beautifully decorated fir trees reflect in the loveliness of this special season.

Reservations can be made at Interlaken by calling (312)346-7094 in Chicago; (414)248-9121 in Wisconsin; and elsewhere (800)225-5558.

Apollo Chorus sets auditions

The Apollo Chorus of Chicago, the oldest all-volunteer chorus in the United States, will hold auditions for membership on Monday, Jan. 4 from 9 to 10 p.m. in Curtiss Hall on the 10th floor of the Fine Arts Building, 410 S. Michigan, following the chorus' regular rehearsal.

Auditions are by appointment only. Call Karen Bruce at (312)354-6443 evenings to make an appointment or for more information.

The all-volunteer Apollo Chorus, which currently has approximately 200 voices, annually presents three concerts for Chicagoans. Founded in 1872, the Apollo Chorus specializes in great classical/sacred works for large choir and orchestra.

Thomas E. Hockstra of Lake Villa, professor of music at the College of Lake County, is music director and conductor of the Apollo Chorus.

Spotlight shines on Kalicki kids

by JULIE KAPLAN

Ten-year-old Lloyd Kalicki would like to be a dancing doctor or a swimming movie star when he grows up.

That would sound pretty far-fetched, coming from most kids, but with Lloyd it's not so unbelievable. He's one of three Kalicki offspring who've racked up some pretty impressive accomplishments within their combined 28 years (Barbara is eleven and Arnold is seven-years old).

Lloyd and Arnold are currently performing in the Nutcracker Ballet at the McCormick Place in Chicago, which began on Dec. 11 and runs through Dec. 27, 1987. Lloyd is a soldier with the "B" cast and Arnold is an understudy after surviving through four auditions with about 400 other young hopefuls and many hours of practice.

Lloyd and Barbara have been a winning pair on the dance floor as well as in the ice rink. They captured 2nd place in this year's National Educator's Dance Competition and were the first place couple in the Spotlight National Ice Skating competition.

In addition, the three have been extras in several movies including "Rent-A-Car" with Burt Reynolds and the soon to be released "Midnight Run" with Robert DeNiro. They also appear in the ABC-TV "Sable" series which airs on Saturdays at 7 P.M. The children agreed that Burt Reynolds was their favorite star because he was friendly to them despite on-set rules against stars talking to extras.

While the kids enjoy their current activities, both Lloyd and Arnold share swimming as their true love, although they haven't swam noncompetitively yet. Basketball is Barbara's favorite, although she has also played that sport noncompetitively, thus far.

As for goals in the coming year, Lloyd says that he will be next year's Prince (the star role in The Nutcracker), and Arnold would like to be in the regular cast of the Arie Crown production.

Hidden Cove restaurant seafood lovers delight

by GLORIA DAVIS

If its seafood at its best diners want, either for lunch or dinner, The Hidden Cove Restaurant in Libertyville is the place to go.

No long trek or time consuming search is necessary as hinted by the restaurant's name. The Cove is hardly hidden, since it can be found in the parking lot of the same mall that is anchored by the Burlington Coat Factory, off of Milwaukee Ave. in Libertyville.

One of the owners, brothers Gus, Tony and Chris Kotsios, are always on duty in the kitchen to see that only the finest of culinary delights emanates from it.

The newest offering of a great variety of sumptuous dishes is the Sunday buffet that runs from 8 a.m. to 1 p.m. every week with the reasonable charge of $3.25 for adults and $1.95 for children.

The newly remodeled interior of the restaurant corresponds with its seafood specialties by using lots of red, white and blue, and numerous nautical memorabilia.

The half-glass wall in the main diningroom that has marine scenes, complete with sea gulls in flight artistically etched upon it, is the decor's very attractive focal point.

The Cove offers almost any kind of fresh seafood a customer could desire, from Frog Legs Provencal, Mahi Mahi (dolphin), to luscious rainbow trout.

But, for those who prefer delicious morsels that do not come from the sea, the Cove is locally famous for "the best cut of prime rib in the area," says Manager Chuck Cromer.

Every piece of meat served at the Cove gets special treatment as it is freshly cut by the owners themselves. This is one of the reasons that the Veal Piccata or the Veal Marsala is far above the ordinary.

For lunch, the Cove's hearty sandwiches are just the ticket for the discerning diner. Besides offering a choice of revolving daily specials, the Kotsios turn out a mean hamburger and a juicy Reuben sandwich.

Going from the price of lunches, up to $4.50, to the dinner menu on which the prices start at $6.95, the Cove's popularity is on the increase because of the culinary values that are a daily occurrence.

Rock Tracks

By Rob Ferrus

"We're here to prove to the world that speed-metal is here to stay," says Anthrax lead guitarist Dan Spitz. "We're no trend band or blood and Satan band either. We're just an aggressive rock and roll band, and we're for real."

Anthrax was formed in July, 1981 by five New York musicians drawn together by their mutual love of heavy metal and — believe it or not — comic books. It wasn't until May of 1983 that Anthrax seriously began to consider music as their career.

Their LP Among The Living is pure street level, high-velocity rock and roll. Co-produced by the band and Eddie Kramer (Led Zeppelin, Jimi Hendrix), Among The Living goes one step beyond the previously laid foundations of Thrax music. From the complex time changes of the title cut, to the left field humor of "EFILNIKUFESIN (NFL)" to the scorching earth guitar pyrotechnics of "I Am The Law," (which entered the U.K. charts without airplay), Anthrax have firmly established themselves as an original force in the speed metal field.

Their previous album, promiscuously titled Spreading The Disease, was described by many record companies as being "too heavy" and as having "not one hit single." Nonetheless, it struck a responsive chord with listeners. The subsequent tours of Europe established them as a powerful draw at the box office, with a string of sold-out shows.

"We're probably not going to sell six million albums and probably not going to get on the radio, either," speculates Scott Ian, the group's rhythm guitarist. "But we don't care. We don't play for the radio, anyway. As long as we can play our music our way, that's what's important. We're going to bring this music to the world."

Their newest EP, entitled I'm The Man, features an Anthrax version of "Sabbath Bloody Sabbath." ©1987, McNaught Synd.

Sculptor exhibits

The Lake County Museum has sculptures of Charles Emmons on exhibit until the end of December. Emmons' artwork has won awards in shows all over Illinois.

Many of the sculptures are made of woods found in the Lake County area, and carry titles such as "KR-2," "Feline," "Pintail" and "CITHL." In addition to sculpting, Emmons has taken 25 years of singing lessons and has performed locally.

Lake County Forest Preserve Dist. President Donald Strenger commented, "I hope that many people will visit the Lake County Museum to see the wonderful sculptures by Charles Emmons."

The Lake County Museum is open daily from 1 to 4:30 p.m. The museum is located seven and a half miles west of Mundelein in the Lakewood Forest Preserve on Rte. 176. Admission fees are adults $1, students and senior citizens, 50 cents. Preschoolers and Museum Assn. members are free. Monday is a free day for all visitors. Group rates and a gift shop are available.

Christmas season video picks

✓ Bill

"It came without ribbons!...It came without tags!...It came without packages, boxes, or bags!"

What does that mean? It means the time has come for your friendly neighborhood cinema columnist to recommend their favorite choices of Christmas movies available at local video stores.

A CHRISTMAS STORY: This lesser-known 1984 film is based on the novel "In God We Trust, All Others Pay Cash" by Jean Shepherd and it tells the story of a young boy's Christmas in an Indiana town in the 1940s. What makes it special is that it takes that wholesome family setting and injects into it a sarcastic sense of humor about the whole thing, which works very well. It has moments that may conjure memories of your own childhood Christmases...sort of. It stars Darren McGavin (TV's Kolchak: The Night Stalker) and Melinda Dillon (of "Close Encounters") as the boy's parents.

A CHARLIE BROWN CHRISTMAS & HOW THE GRINCH STOLE CHRISTMAS: Some stores carry a cassette that features these two classics as a doubleheader. While it obviously does not qualify as a movie, I include it here because for those of us who grew up watching them from the mid-1960s on, the holiday wouldn't be the same without the Laurel-and-Hardy antics of the Grinch and his dog Max on that thrilling sleigh ride down the side of Mt. Crumpet, or without Linus's moving speech about the true meaning of Christmas. (By the way, the opening quote of this column is from the Grinch.)

MIRACLE ON 34TH ST.: The famous story of a dept. store Santa who claims to be the real thing is one of the best. Unfortunately, the colorization monster got hold of it a year or 2 ago. If it's important to you to see this story in color, then watch the 1974 tv remake with Sebastian Cabot. But if you want to see the original with Edmund Gwenn and Natalie Wood, the way it was meant to be seen, I suggest turning off the color on your set.

IT'S A WONDERFUL LIFE: The undisputed king of Christmas movies. Jimmy Stewart's outstanding performance is one of many elements that make this film well worth seeing again and again.

A CHRISTMAS CAROL: There have been many different versions starring as Scrooge everybody from George C. Scott and Albert Finney to Henry Winkler and Disney's Scrooge McDuck but my favorite is the 1936 film starring Reginald Owen with Gene Lockhart as Bob Cratchett. That's the one I saw first when I was a kid and it stuck with me.

So there you have it. Now let's warm up the VCR, carve the Roast Beast and head for Whoville for a holiday feast. And believe me, those Whos really know how to party.

✓ Matthew

T'was the night before Christmas and all through the home, not a creature was stirring, only the video drome. The head phones were hung by the catalytic space heater with care in hopes that CDs soon would be there. The children were snuggled all tight in their G.I. Joe sheeted beds as lazer tag blasters zapped through their heads. Mom in her thermol NFL sleepwear and I with my remote VCR control had just settled down...you know the rest.

In today's modern world "Gee Dad, it's a Lionel!" just doesn't have the impact that it used to. What with home video games replacing the fast paced real life interactions (arguments) that Monopoly once gave us and dolls that not only can speak and wet, but can also help you with your income taxes, the joys of Christmas past (as in the simpler early atomic era) don't seem to be around much any more. Today I imagine that if one were to reward a particularly bad boy or girl, one wouldn't resort to coal in a stocking but rather booting up certain pieces of unproven software in their PC.

Keeping this in mind I have come up with my seasonal Christmas video picks list. I hope that this list might help your family to once again see the joy that is modern Christmas in America.

BUCCARO BANZI AND THE CREATURES FROM PLANET TEN IN THE SIXTH DIMENSION: This electric classic will bring tears to any micro processor-hearted kid's video lense. I won't ruin the fun by telling you the plot. Though perhaps not technically a "Christmas film", it does none-the-less touch on some of the more basic attitudes that today's children seem to have at this time of year: Aliens, brain surgery, rock stars, outer space and inter-dimension travel.

STAR WARS, PARTS I, II & III: Yes, the trilogy that first brought the warmth of our age to that space beneath the Christmas tree. Next to E.T.'s LED tipped finger, these three films moved more metric tons of polystyrene than Monsanto and DuPont combined. They are a "must" for that neo-space cadet.

G.I. JOE FIGHTS THE THE FORCES OF DOOM & MY LITTLE PONY: THE MOVIE: What can one say of these two heavyweights of the cinema that hasn't already been said. All I will add is that if you are one of those parents who worries about their children growing up only to find them carrying a worn unabridged copy of "Moby Dick" around under their arm, then these are the films for you.

For what they're worth, these are my video selections for the Christmas season. If they don't seem to fill your bill for your families concept of just what the Christmas season is about, may I suggest you turn off the VCR this Christmas Eve and take your family to a church service. ("Hey Dad! Where's the screen?")

Experience Germany and cut costs

by JIM WARNKEN

President, North Star Travel, Inc.

With the fall of the U.S. dollar, it may seem a trip to Germany is not the bargain it was a few years ago. Hotels and food are more expensive, as are tours of the country itself. Do not despair. There are ways to save money and even make the trip more exciting than before.

The major expense, the plane ticket over, is not affected by the falling dollar. In fact, with travel to Europe somewhat weak, the airlines are offering some real bargains. Now for the good stuff—seeing Germany as a German.

A German would never stay in a hotel with a bath in the room. What we may consider a necessity is a luxury in Germany. Now you may think any hotel that has the bathroom down the hall must be a real dive. Untrue. I recently stayed in a first-class hotel in Munich with the shower down the hall for approximately $27 a night. That included not only all taxes and tips, but breakfast the next morning!

Don't take the city tours advertised at the airport. Instead, go to one of the many tourist information offices, get a free city map, hop a bus, streetcar or subway train and you're on your way for a couple of marks (about $1). A pass can be purchased in Munich for about $3, which allows travel to anywhere in the city for 24 hours. Here are some details on top sights in Munich reachable by public transportation.

Not a pleasurable journey, but nevertheless an interesting one, is to the Dachau concentration camp outside of Munich. This camp has been left just as it was after World War II, the morgue, the crematorium and the gas chamber all a reminder of the sufferings of over 200,000 people of many races. To get there, take Subway Train 2 to the Dachau station. Then take Bus 722 to the camp. Your bus pass will get you there. Admission to the camp is free. It was cold, damp and gray the day of my visit, which somehow seemed fitting.

For a more pleasant journey, and an introduction to another economical way of German travel, take the train from Munich to the little town of Fussen. Here is the castle of Neuschwanstein. If you've been to Disney World, it may look familiar. The one at the Magic Kingdom was patterned after King Ludwig II's masterpiece setting here high in the Bavarian Alps.

All similarity to Disney's play castle ends when one steps inside. It's no wonder Ludwig bankrupted the nation with the building of this, and three other nearby castles. During my visit there was a cover of fresh snow making the castle look like something out of a storybook. Again, fitting. To get there, take train 2162 from Munich to Fussen. A bus goes to the castle from the train station, or one can walk there in about 45 minutes. Round trip train fare from Munich for the two-hour ride is about $17—much less than the $60 tour advertised.

A final tip: If you do visit Germany, I would recommend the south part of the country. North and central are mostly industrial and dull.

Some call new Esoteria, Chicago's hottest spot

Looking for the ultimate spot to people watch in Chicago? Eager to hear some of the newest music in town without being forced off the dance floor by intimidating characters in leather?

If so, Esoteria is the club to go to. Opening Saturday, Dec. 19, at 2247 N. Lincoln Avenue, Esoteria will offer nightclub patrons the comfort of a neighborhood bar with a difference, a high energy dance club tucked away in back.

Esoteria's many contrasting atmospheres promise to set it apart from all other Chicago night spots while attracting the city's most intriguing clientele.

The design of the front bar area is reminiscent of Greek and Roman eras for it offers patrons a comfortable, yet unique, social setting with aging columns, concrete reliefs, and exposed brick.

Additionally, designer Russ Scholl of Justice, Ill. has airbrushed a 18 by 12 foot reproduction of Michelangelo's Sistine Chapel masterpiece on the room's newly constructed metal cathedral ceiling.

Music in this area will be provided by a compact disc jukebox.

Just past the front bar is what makes Esoteria different, a dance club featuring a high tech design and state-of-the-art JBL sound system.

This space, designed by Ray Paseka of Palos Hills, Ill. is modeled after the new wave film "Brazil", very futuristic and industrial.

There will be two dance floors (one on a four foot raised neon-lit stage) and a second story balcony/sitting room for those who simply want to observe the activity below.

And there will be plenty of activity to observe, for Esoteria's deejays will spin high energy dance music, predominantly from compact discs. One night a week will feature dance music from compact discs only, meaning the deejays will be creating CD dance mixes - a rarity in Chicago according to Ken Smith.

Smith, a partner in both Esoteria and Out Takes, explains, "We want people to dance like they've never danced before. For that reason, we've created a club that offers progressive music in a dynamic environment."

Esoteria is Smith's third club venture. Besides being a partner in River North's fashionable Out Takes bar/restaurant/photo gallery, he also owns the Exit dance club on North Wells.

He is quick to point out that both the atmosphere and clientele at Esoteria will be less harsh than that present at the seven-year-old Exit. In past years, Exit has gained notoriety for being one of Chicago's most hard-core clubs.

A particular emphasis will be placed on attracting patrons to Esoteria between the hours of 2 a.m. and 4 a.m., Sundays through Thursdays. Drink specials and other incentives will be offered between these hours. There will be no cover charge.

Valet parking will be available to supplement parking spaces found on neighboring streets and in the Lutheran General Hospital/Lincoln Park (formerly Augustana Hospital) 24-hour pay lot located just south of the club.

Steadman's 'Nerd' funny as they come Kentucky choir to serenade

by TOM WITOM

Boorish...insufferable...presumptuous, given to the kind of embarrassing behavior only a mother could tolerate (maybe), Edward Edwards, as Rick Steadman, fits the title role perfectly in "The Nerd." He's also outrageously funny.

Having recently played the same character in the Broadway production, Edwards knows exactly how to go for the jugular in Larry Shue's romantic comedy now playing at Chicago's Royal George Theatre.

The antics start when he descends upon a long-lost Army pal whose life he once saved. He joins a birthday celebration dressed as a monster--and fails to realize it's not a costume party. Then he leads the guests in an ill-fated game he calls "shoes and socks."

Lawrence Arancio plays the good-natured birthday boy, Willum Culbert, an architect who quickly learns he has no recourse but to build a wall between himself and the Nerd.

His girlfriend is Barbara Robertson, who stars as Tansy, a weather forecaster. Tony Shalhoub is Axel Hammond, the caustic-tongued critic who learns the secret of doing an anonymous favor.

Bradley Mott is a delight as the pompous hotel owner Warnock, as is Ann Dowd in the role of his neurotic wife Celia, who beams angelically after she is allowed to break a china plate to ease her nervousness. Their bratty son Thor is played by Gabriel Greene, aptly described as a "likely poster child for Planned Parenthood."

Directed by Charles Nelson Reilly, "The Nerd" is a finely crafted production, laden with wacky humor. While some is sophomoric (i.e., the large strand of toilet paper sticking to the Nerd's shoe), there are more than a few fresh bits guaranteed to touch the funnybone.

The Adbury College Choir from Wilmore, Ken., will present a concert at The United Methodist Church of Libertyville, 429 Brainerd Ave., Libertyville, on Thursday, Jan. 7 at 7:30 p.m.

This choir will be performing at the National Congress on Evangelism in Chicago during that week, and have agreed to make an extra appearance in Libertyville.

There is free admission, the public is invited and a freewill offering will be taken to defray traveling expenses. For information call (312) 362-2112.

Starts college

Gregory W. Western, son of Mr. and Mrs. Loren Western of Gurnee, has begun his freshmen year at Middlebury College in Vermont. He is one of 434 freshmen drawn from 3,820 applicants.

Perfect 'Nerd'

Coming from the original Broadway production of 'The Nerd,' Edward Edwards fits the title role perfectly in production now playing at Chicago's Royal George Theatre.

PM&L schedules auditions

Auditions for PM&L Theatre's February production of the British farce "Breath of Spring" will be held at 7:30 p.m. on Sunday, Dec. 20, in the theatre, located at 877 Main St., Antioch.

A cast of four women over 50, one man over 50, one woman in the 20 to 30 age range, and two men of any age, are needed.

The show will be directed by Tom Hausman. PM&L apologizes to its patrons about the fact that the show originally scheduled for February, "The Nerd," is unavailable for production in Antioch due to the current professional run of the show in Chicago.

Avon '55'

Avon "55" Senior Social Club meetings are held at 7:30 p.m. the second and fourth Monday of each month at Avon Twp. Building, 433 E. Washington St., Round Lake Park. Seniors 55 and older are invited to attend. For more information, call (312) 546-4037 or (312) 223-7723.

Game machines differ from personal computer

Video games are expected to be among this holiday season's best-selling items. But while video games are played on both dedicated game machines and personal computers, many parents may be unaware of the important differences between them. Fortunately, comparison shopping for game machines and personal computers is easy. Both are sold in toy, consumer electronics, departments and general merchandise stores.

Here are some tips that parents should keep in mind to prevent confusion:

--Game machines play only games. Home computers run not only games but also educational software, as well as word processing, database and spreadsheet programs.

--Game machines play 100 different games on average. The most popular home computer, the Commodore 64, plays nearly 700.

--Game machines use cartridges. Computers use disks. Virtually all educational programs are available only on disks.

--Game machines are closed systems. Computers can easily be expanded by adding printers, monitors, modems and other peripherals which greatly expand their capabilities.

According to Commodore Business Machines, the popularity of personal computers in the home is expected to increase steadily, as hardware and software continue to be developed specifically for children. One such program already enables those as young as five to operate a personal computer.

As the holidays approach, parents should also look for special deals from brand-name computer makers, including coupons for free game programs.

Television gifts provide year-'round entertainment

With all the holiday tv specials, a television set will be a well-received gift that can be enjoyed by the whole family today and for many years.

Television sets are economical and allow gift-givers to match the gift to the person or family.

Almost any viewer will enjoy the lifelike entertainment experience of stereo television. There is a wealth of stereo programming available, and it is projected that more stations will add the stereo dimension in the coming year.

The Electronic Industries Assn. (EIA) estimates that, by year's end, up to 450 stations will be broadcasting in stereo, offering stereo tv signals to over 80 percent of the homes in the U.S.

A second television set can enliven any room, from kitchen to family room.

Portable televisions are able to fit into almost any niche in the house. They are also a great value, beginning at around $175.

Personal television sets, with small one- to three-inch screens, are great gifts for people who are on the go and may have to miss their favorite programs. With today's hectic lifestyles, small personal television sets, which can fit in a briefcase, knapsack or pocketbook, are becoming more and more popular. And they are an inexpensive gift, about $100 for a standard black and white model, and $250 for a color set.

Large-screen televisions offer superb quality and a truly lifelike entertainment experience for the family. Today's projection televisions come in sizes up to 60 inches, and direct-view tvs in sizes up to 41 inches. A hi-fi VCR adds a personal theater to the house.

"Dollar for dollar, a television set can be one of the best gifts that you can give," said Thomas P. Friel, EIA's group vice president for consumer electronics.

"There are more options and more programming than ever before. With stereo and large screen, television viewing can be an exciting entertainment experience."

Put on the glitz with fashion tips

It's holiday time, and everything takes on a special, radiant glow. This is the season to be daring, to experiment with a host of new looks.

Be dramatic, glamorous and glittering, or elegant and sophisticated.

Here are some high-spirited beauty tips and makeup techniques:

--The spotlight is on eyes--give them impact by applying a flash of gold mascara on tips of lashes (over a couple of coats of black or brown).

--Frame glittering eyes by brushing gold mascara into brows. Brush upward-mascara sets, controls and colors at the same time.

--Paler skin is in for nighttime glamour. Give face a sheer, moonlit radiance with soft pink glittery powder. Puff on cheeks, forehead, collarbone, décolletage, bare back (terrific for those off-shoulder fashions).

--Spark up nail color with a high frost color of polish.

--Jazz up hair with temporary hair coloring gels. These tints add highlights or glamorous shimmer to any hair color, and can be shampooed out when the party's over.

--Transform a simple dress into a dazzler with holiday accent jewelry. Emeralds, rhinestones and gold add festive glitter to a basic black dress.

Remember, it's easy to add razzle-dazzle to the holidays. Be confident. Have fun. And for the most special personal holiday look of all, let personal style be your guide.

Dear Mr. Sierocinski:

Congratulations on being rated one of the best S&Ls in the country. Your hard work has earned you a place in THE HIGHEST RATED S&Ls IN AMERICA, from Sheshunoff Rating Services.

The objective Sheshunoff Ratings are a nationally recognized measurement of an S&Ls safety and soundness.

I am sure you would like a record of your achievement, and an opportunity to evaluate the other highest rated S&Ls.

With your edition, you will receive two diploma-size certificates featuring your rating and the name of your S&L. One is for your office, and the other is for prominent display elsewhere in your S&L.

I hope you continue to have an excellent year, and that we can help to make it even better.

Congratulations again.

Very truly yours,
Alex Sheshunoff

WHO WOULD HAVE GUESSED?

Do your children tell you everything? If they have taken a spill, fallen off a bike, or injured themselves playing football, you may be the last to know. That's why it's important to give your children a Chiropractic Checkup regularly. Many times, untreated childhood accidents turn into spinal distortions that may not show up for months or years. Parents never really know how many little bumps, knocks, and falls their children have had. Why take a chance? Bring your children in for a Chiropractic Checkup. CALL TODAY!

MARQUEE

THREE MEN AND A BABY (PG - Buena Vista) Starring Steve Guttenberg, Tom Selleck and Ted Danson. ★★

By J.T. YURKO

The title of "Three Men and a Baby" tells you everything you need to know about the film. Take three amiable bachelor roommates, place them in the Taj Mahal of New York penthouses, then add the active ingredient: a baby girl cute enough to melt the heart of an Eskimo Scrooge.

Tom Selleck, Steve Guttenberg and Ted Danson play the three amigos, Peter, Michael and Jack, all of them swinging American males. These guys would never turn a single woman away from their door, and little Mary is no exception. They find her on their stoop, with a note attached indicating that one bachelor's night of pleasure has paid its dividend. Soon the three men are godfathers, with their careers and social lives giving way to nightly feedings and dirty diapers.

The plot demands that the three bachelors consider the baby a nuisance at first, but are eventually overcome by her charm and their own paternal drives. But these guys are wealthy enough for the child to be no burden economically. And gags such as the scene in which the baby wets the silk sheets are lightweight farce at best. So when Mary's mother (Nancy Travis) comes to reclaim her, it is no surprise that all three men want to make a long-term commitment. And the domestic tale takes a largely unnecessary twist when the package from heaven gets mixed up with a package of heroin intended for some drug dealers.

Selleck, Danson and Guttenberg convey enough charm to overcome the film's lack of a believable plot. Director Leonard Nimoy directs with restraint that is, depending on your point of view, a light touch or a lack of style. There are no glaring errors, but no inspired bits either. His biggest mistake may have been agreeing to direct in the first place. The French film "Three Men and a Cradle," on which this film is based, was a very funny movie. This one doesn't come close.

THIS WEEK'S

HOROSCOPE

BY SALOME

Weekly Tip: Don't take things so seriously.

Aries (Mar. 21-Apr 19) Try to look on the lighter side of any social situations you encounter now. The holiday season has left you in a good mood, so spread a little sunshine.

Taurus (Apr. 20-May 20) Be extra careful now not to spend too much money playing Santa Claus. You have a naturally generous nature, but be sure it's within your budget.

Gemini (May 21-June 20) You may find that you're being too demanding of someone you really care for; take a step back and survey the situation. Don't hurt the one you love.

Cancer (June 21-Jul 20) Be extremely scrupulous when out and about making your holiday rounds. There are people around you trying to catch you at your worst moments.

Leo (Jul 21-Aug. 22) This blissful season has you in a mood only to be outdone by your generosity. Your dedication to those you love will not go unnoticed, especially now.

Virgo (Aug. 23-Sept. 22) Someone who cares about you is a little uptight now and may be demanding a bit much from you. Try to take this in your stride; it's only temporary.

Libra (Sept. 23-Oct 22) If you're suffering from a broken heart, rest assured that time heals these wounds. Your ship is on the horizon, so wait out the storm patiently.

Scorpio (Oct. 23-Nov. 21) Use your keen sense of adventure to find yourself at the helm of some social situation. People will want to be close to you to join in the fun.

Sagittarius (Nov. 22-Dec. 21) This being your birthday month, you will find things coming up roses everywhere. Those projects you've been working on are ripe now.

Capricorn (Dec. 22-Jan. 19) Your holiday chores seem unending, but remember the effort will be worth it once "the day" finally rolls around. Don't, however, overtire yourself.

Aquarius (Jan. 20-Feb. 18) You're being a little too rumbunctious these days; you'd do well to tone down this attitude. People around you are taking a dislike to it.

Pisces (Feb. 19-Mar. 20) That finely-honed sense of honesty and fair play have you at your wit's end about something. Talk the situation over with a trusted friend.

If you were born this week, you have the good fortune to be born at this festive time of year, and you're probably more perky than you usually are (which is saying a lot). Being that it's the season to be jolly, try to give in more to your good nature and spirit of sharing instead of holding back, which you sometimes do. And Happy Birthday!

Dec. deadline nears for expiring vehicle license plates

Secretary of State Jim Edgar reminded motor vehicle owners with passenger license plates expiring in December to buy their renewal stickers and/or new plates at a Secretary of State facility or a financial institution. It is now too late to send applications by mail and receive stickers and plates before the Dec. 31 expiration date.

Stickers and/or plates for non-leased passenger vehicles are available at

Secretary of State facilities in Springfield and Chicago, and at more than 1,660 financial institutions, including 837 banks, 201 savings and loan associations, 27 credit unions and about 600 Chicago-area currency exchanges.

Leased passenger vehicle plates and/or stickers may only be purchased at the Centennial Building in Springfield and at 5401 N. Elston in Chicago.

Recreational vehicle, recreational trailer, school bus, municipal bus, farm machinery and farm trailer plates for 1988 are also available at the Secretary of State facilities. Tow truck plates are available at the two Springfield facilities and at 5401 N. Elston in Chicago.

Effective Friday, Jan. 1, 1988, anyone driving one of the above vehicles with an expired sticker or plates will be subject to a fine for improper registration.

DCFS to provide AIDS info

The care and handling of children who have Acquired Immune Deficiency Syndrome (AIDS) was the subject of Waukegan workshop sponsored by the Illinois Dept. of Children and Family Services.

"DCFS is very concerned about children and AIDS," said DCFS Director Gordon Johnson. "Some 20 children in our care statewide have tested positive for the AIDS antibody and Illinois is now one of 25 states with AIDS children."

Johnson said DCFS is sponsoring 36 training sessions throughout the state to provide its staff and other child care professionals with important facts about AIDS.

"Another purpose for the training is for our staff and other participants to become AIDS educators," Johnson said. "We must put to rest the fears, myths and misconceptions surrounding AIDS by becoming informed. We must battle this deadly disease through education, prevention and when necessary-by taking prudent precautions."

Johnson said that statistics from the Center for Disease Control show that more than 600 children and teenagers in America have been diagnosed as having AIDS. Thousands more are believed to be affected with the disease.

Johnson was joined at the DCFS AIDS workshop by Dr. Judith M. Stone, private practice clinical psychologist in Chicago and regional and national AIDS health counselor and educator and other AIDS experts who also made presentations to the group.

Statewide, some 2,700 people will be trained at the DCFS workshops.

The Camp Ravenswood YMCA began registration for Winter Classes on Dec. 14 for members and Dec. 21 for non-members. Classes begin on Jan. 4. A wide variety of classes will be offered this session including swim instruction for all ages, gymnastics, water and land fitness, preschool hymn and swim.

Gill to serve

Arthur A. Gill, Grayslake, supervisor of rangers for the Lake County Forest Preserve Dist., has been elected to serve as the first president of the newly formed Illinois Park Law Enforcement Assn. (I.P.L.E.A.). Gill has served as coordinator for this group during the past few years.

This association will now formally become a State Chapter Affiliate of the National Park Law Enforcement Assn. (P.L.E.A.) in 1988. Chief Gill has served as supervisor of rangers for Lake County since 1977. Prior to that, he served with the DuPage County Forest Preserve Dist.

"We are proud to have Art represent our forest preserve district within the state of Illinois and nationally," said Dist. president Donald Strenger. "He is a credit to our district and Lake County."

This second generation park law enforcement officer is the son of former Oak Park Park Dist. policeman, the late Lt. Russell B. Gill, who served the Village of Oak Park for 37 years.

SPORTS

SPORTS BRIEFS

Headed south

Team members of the Gymnastics Spot in Mundelein have accepted an invitation to be the only Illinois gymnastic club to perform at the 1988 World Expo in Brisbane, Australia next summer.

The Illinois World Expo Gymnastic team will include Tyson Bryant of Barrington, Ranya And Chrissy Holik of Gurnee, Laura Pastore of Grayslake, Erin Konen and Sean Kohnston of Hawthorn Woods, Jessica Kane of Lake Villa, Sarah Mikrut of Lake Zurich, Jenny and Kristen Snell, Nicole Ples, Wendy Gold, Mike and Derek Swisz and Sandra Plaza all of Mundelein, Jenny Bowers of Vernon Hills, Vanessa Koehler of Wadsworth, Tracy and Troy Remelski of Wauconda and Jerome Cole and Joe Daniels of Zion.

Head coaches and owners Norbert and Kim BenDixen of Mundelein will accompany these young ambassadors as will staff coaches Mary Joe Burke of Arlington Heights, Julie Dumbacher of Lake Villa, Eric Jones of Mundelein, Kelly MacDonald of Skokie and Melanie Brown of Wadsworth.

The gymnasts and coaches will depart from Los Angeles on June 24, 1988 and fly to Sydney, Australia. Team members will "show the world" in two 45-minute exhibitions daily. The athletes on the team range in ages from eight to 18.

Letter winner

North Central College senior Dean Sjog has been awarded a varsity football letter by coach Paul Conner. Sjog, a running back and former Warren Blue Devil, rushed for 365 yards on 101 carries. He led the team with seven touchdown runs.

North Central finished the season with a 6-3 record, the college's best mark in five years.

Boosting attendance

In an effort to bring more warm bodies (and revenues) into Illinois High School basketball games, the Illinois High School Assn. is instructing member schools to select one game this season for "Pack the Place" night. The idea is to promote one boys and one girls game under that banner. Schools may use their own initiatives in their promotions.

Offer skiing trips

College of Lake County students may plan for a six-week session in downhill skiing offered as an intramural activity at Wilmot Mountain. Sessions begin Jan. 21, 1988 for six consecutive weeks.

Schedule changes

Volleyball teams may be under new regulations imposed by the Illinois High School Assn.

The IHSA's legislative commission has recommended a series of proposals which could decrease the number of matches played. Under the proposal, which won by a 13-8 vote, no school may participate in: 21 matches exclusive of the IHSA tournament; 19 matches plus one tournament; 18 matches plus two tournaments; 16 matches plus three tournaments or 15 matches plus four tournaments.

No team may play in more than six different matches.

Rebound battle

Carmel's Randy Bierman and St. Patrick's John Carolan battle for rebound in East Suburban Catholic Conference battle. Carmel's Chris Mikrut also vies for rebound. Carmel won ESCC game 58-44. Corsairs are at Marist Dec. 18 in league action. — Photo by Craig Vogel.

Carmel set for Marist

Carmel will have one tough assignment on its hands when the Corsairs travel to Marist for an East Suburban Catholic Conference clash Dec. 18.

"They look to run a lot and have fine outside shooting. They're the team that will challenge St. Josephs," Carmel coach Scott Rosberg said of Marist.

Both teams come into the contest with 2-1 ESCC marks. Carmel, now 4-2 overall, is coming off a league weekend at home which saw the Corsairs split two games.

Carmel opened on a strong note, using pressure on defense to get past St. Patrick's 58-44.

"The pressure defense helped in a lot of ways. They rely a lot on three pointers and we were able to get out and pressure those," Rosberg said.

The pressing defense also allowed the Corsairs to look for inside baskets from Scott Stahoviak and Derek Shaw. Eric Bruksch led the winners with 12 points, Stahoviak had 11 and guard Kevin Talz had eight.

Carmel took a 10-7 lead after eight minutes and extended it to 24-16 at halftime.

St. Patrick's came out ready in the second half, outscoring CHS 18-11 in the third quarter.

But Carmel's defense wore down the visitors in the final stanza, as Carmel won the quarter by a 23-10 margin.

Grayslake faces tough challenge in NWSC battle with Round Lake

There is one thing Grayslake and Round Lake basketball fans can place a safe bet on when the two archrivals clash at Grayslake Dec. 18.

The points that will decide the winner of the Northwest Suburban Conference game will probably be few.

"It will be a classic. Every time we play them it's a couple of points," Grayslake coach Greg Groth said.

The Rams come into the rare home game with a 2-0 record in the Northwest Suburban after knocking off Marian Central 54-43 last week. The Rams are off to a 4-2 start, but coach Greg Groth is still looking for consistency.

"We're still looking for consistency from five guys," Groth said.

Round Lake comes into the game featuring the front-line play of 6-8 center Brian Richardson, 6-3 forward Todd Collis, 6-1 swingman Tim Dunn 5-11 guard Frank Russell and 5-11 forward Adam Sullinger.

The Panthers use an intimidating trapping defense. Against Lake Zurich last week, the Bears were forced into 22 turnovers in the first half.

"The trap was effective," Round Lake coach Bob Ward said.

Lake Zurich found itself trailing by 20 at the outset of the third quarter. A fourth quarter rally cut the gap to nine before the Panthers held on for a 74-66 win.

"We have not seen a trap that good," Lake Zurich coach John Nesheim said. The Bears, who also lost a non-conference game to Highland Park, fell to 3-6 overall, 1-1 in the NWSC.

Offensively, Collis had 20 points and Russell 15 for the winners.

While Grayslake will have to contend with Round Lake's trap, Round Lake will have to stop Tim West. West, a 6-4 junior forward, scored 25 points against Marian Central, including 12-for-13 from the free-throw line. West scored nine of his team's 14 field goals on a night when the Rams would shoot just 14-for-39 from the field.

Mike Ryan, a 6-6 center, added 12 points for the winners.

Against Marian Central, the Rams used strong starts in both halves to pave the way. Grayslake led 15-6 after one and after Marian closed the gap in the second quarter, led 43-29 entering the fourth quarter.

"We played a great first quarter and then it was up and down. We made some silly mistakes in the second quarter," Groth said.

In addition to West's scoring punch, junior Tim Hough has emerged as another key to the offense. "He came out and took the game over," Groth said.

Before conference wins last week, both teams lost non-league battles.

In Round Lake's 63-61 loss to Woodstock, the visiting Blue Streaks trailed for the better part of three quarters. But Woodstock tied the game at 61-all on a jump shot by Jeff Kaufmann and Kaufmann's layup with :02 left was the game winner.

Round Lake had led 19-9 after one, 35-25 at halftime and 47-43 after three. Russell had 21 points while Collis had 15 and Richardson added 10.

The same night, Grayslake fell victim to a poor start and lost 69-52 at McHenry. "We tried to rush things and we did not shoot well," Groth said.

West had 21 points for Grayslake.

Lancers lose two, prepare for Highland tournament

College of Lake County's men's basketball team will be up against the best Highland's Christmas tournament has to offer.

The Lancers start the weekend tournament in Freeport Dec. 18 against DuPage.

"They're the favorite. We have our work cut out for us," CLC coach Bruce Smith said.

The Lancers, now 6-3 overall, are coming off two losses at Lincoln Community College's tournament. CLC lost a close 86-84 decision to Lincoln Land before losing 103-84 against Lincoln, a nationally ranked team.

Grant graduate Don Kiesgen played well both nights, according to Smith, Kiesgen scored 23 against Lincoln Land and 25 against Lincoln.

The Lancers fell behind twice by 10 points but rallied and trailed just 46-40 at halftime. Joel Elfering had 14 and Mike Fiesel added 11 for CLC.

One stat stood out in the loss to Lincoln. CLC could manage just 13 of 31 free-throw tries, 42 percent.

The Lancers had won four straight, capped off by a 78-69 over Rock Valley. Bob Bell had 22 points, Joel Elfering 21 and Don Gunther 10 for the winners. Kiesgen had 12 rebounds and Bob Bell 10.

Elfering, a sophomore from Warren Twp. High School, had seven assists.

Antioch girls break losing streak, prepare for ZeeBees

For the first few weeks and games of the 1987-88 season, new Antioch girls basketball coach Jeff Dressler must have wondered what he had gotten himself into.

Antioch, regional title winners last year, played ragged basketball in losing 10 straight games,

Wauconda girls make progress

Wauconda may not have been on the top of the girls basketball race for a couple of years now, but you can't deny that the Bulldogs are making progress.

Wauconda, heading into this week's action, is at 2-1 in Northwest Suburban Conference play, one game behind undefeated Marengo. The Bulldogs beat Round Lake and Grant before losing to the Indians. Wauconda, which lost all of its games at the Glenbrook South tourney, was 2-4 after six games.

The Bulldogs host non-conference foe Crystal Lake South Dec. 19 before competing at the Deerfield tournament Dec. 21.

Against Grant, the Bulldogs trailed 24-14 at halftime after scoring just four first-quarter points. The comeback became complete in the second half by allowing Grant just 15 points for the two quarters.

"At halftime we redesigned our rebounding. Grant was getting a lot of second and third attempts," Wauconda coach Don Giebel said.

Debbie Westergaard, who led Wauconda scorers with 15 points, put her team ahead with a clutch free throw with less than a minute left. Grant had a shot to go ahead, but the last-second shot fell off the rim. Time ran out as the players scrambled for the rebound.

Andrea Howard added 11 points for the winners.

Marengo showed Wauconda why it is the class of the NWSC this winter by holding the Bulldogs scoreless in the first quarter en route to a 60-34 win. "They're the team to beat in the conference," Giebel said.

Westergaard had 17 points for Wauconda and Howard had 10.

Grant had given Marengo a tougher test before falling 50-48 in the conference opener. Tammy Loring had 12 for Grant and Stacy Starostovic had 10. Shannon McCurry had 24 to lead the winners.

Marengo also beat Johnsbury, 50-32 last week. Elsewhere in the NWSC, Marian Central had little trouble with Grayslake, winning 70-43.

six counting in North Suburban Conference standings.

And for 17 minutes Saturday, it seemed as though loss No. 11 was coming. Trailing North Chicago by seven points early in the third quarter, it happened. All the hard work, practices and encouragement paid off. A Tara Farnsworth led rally keyed the Sequoits to a 46-33 win.

"We ran the offense in the second half and scored. In the first half we never ran any offense," Dressler said.

Antioch will be hoping to continue the NSC momentum with a win at Zion-Benton Dec. 19.

Farnsworth, 5-9 senior forward, scored 10 of Antioch's first 13 points in the second half. That turned the seven-point deficit into a lead. Farnsworth's free throw with 1:44 left in the quarter gave Antioch a 23-22 lead.

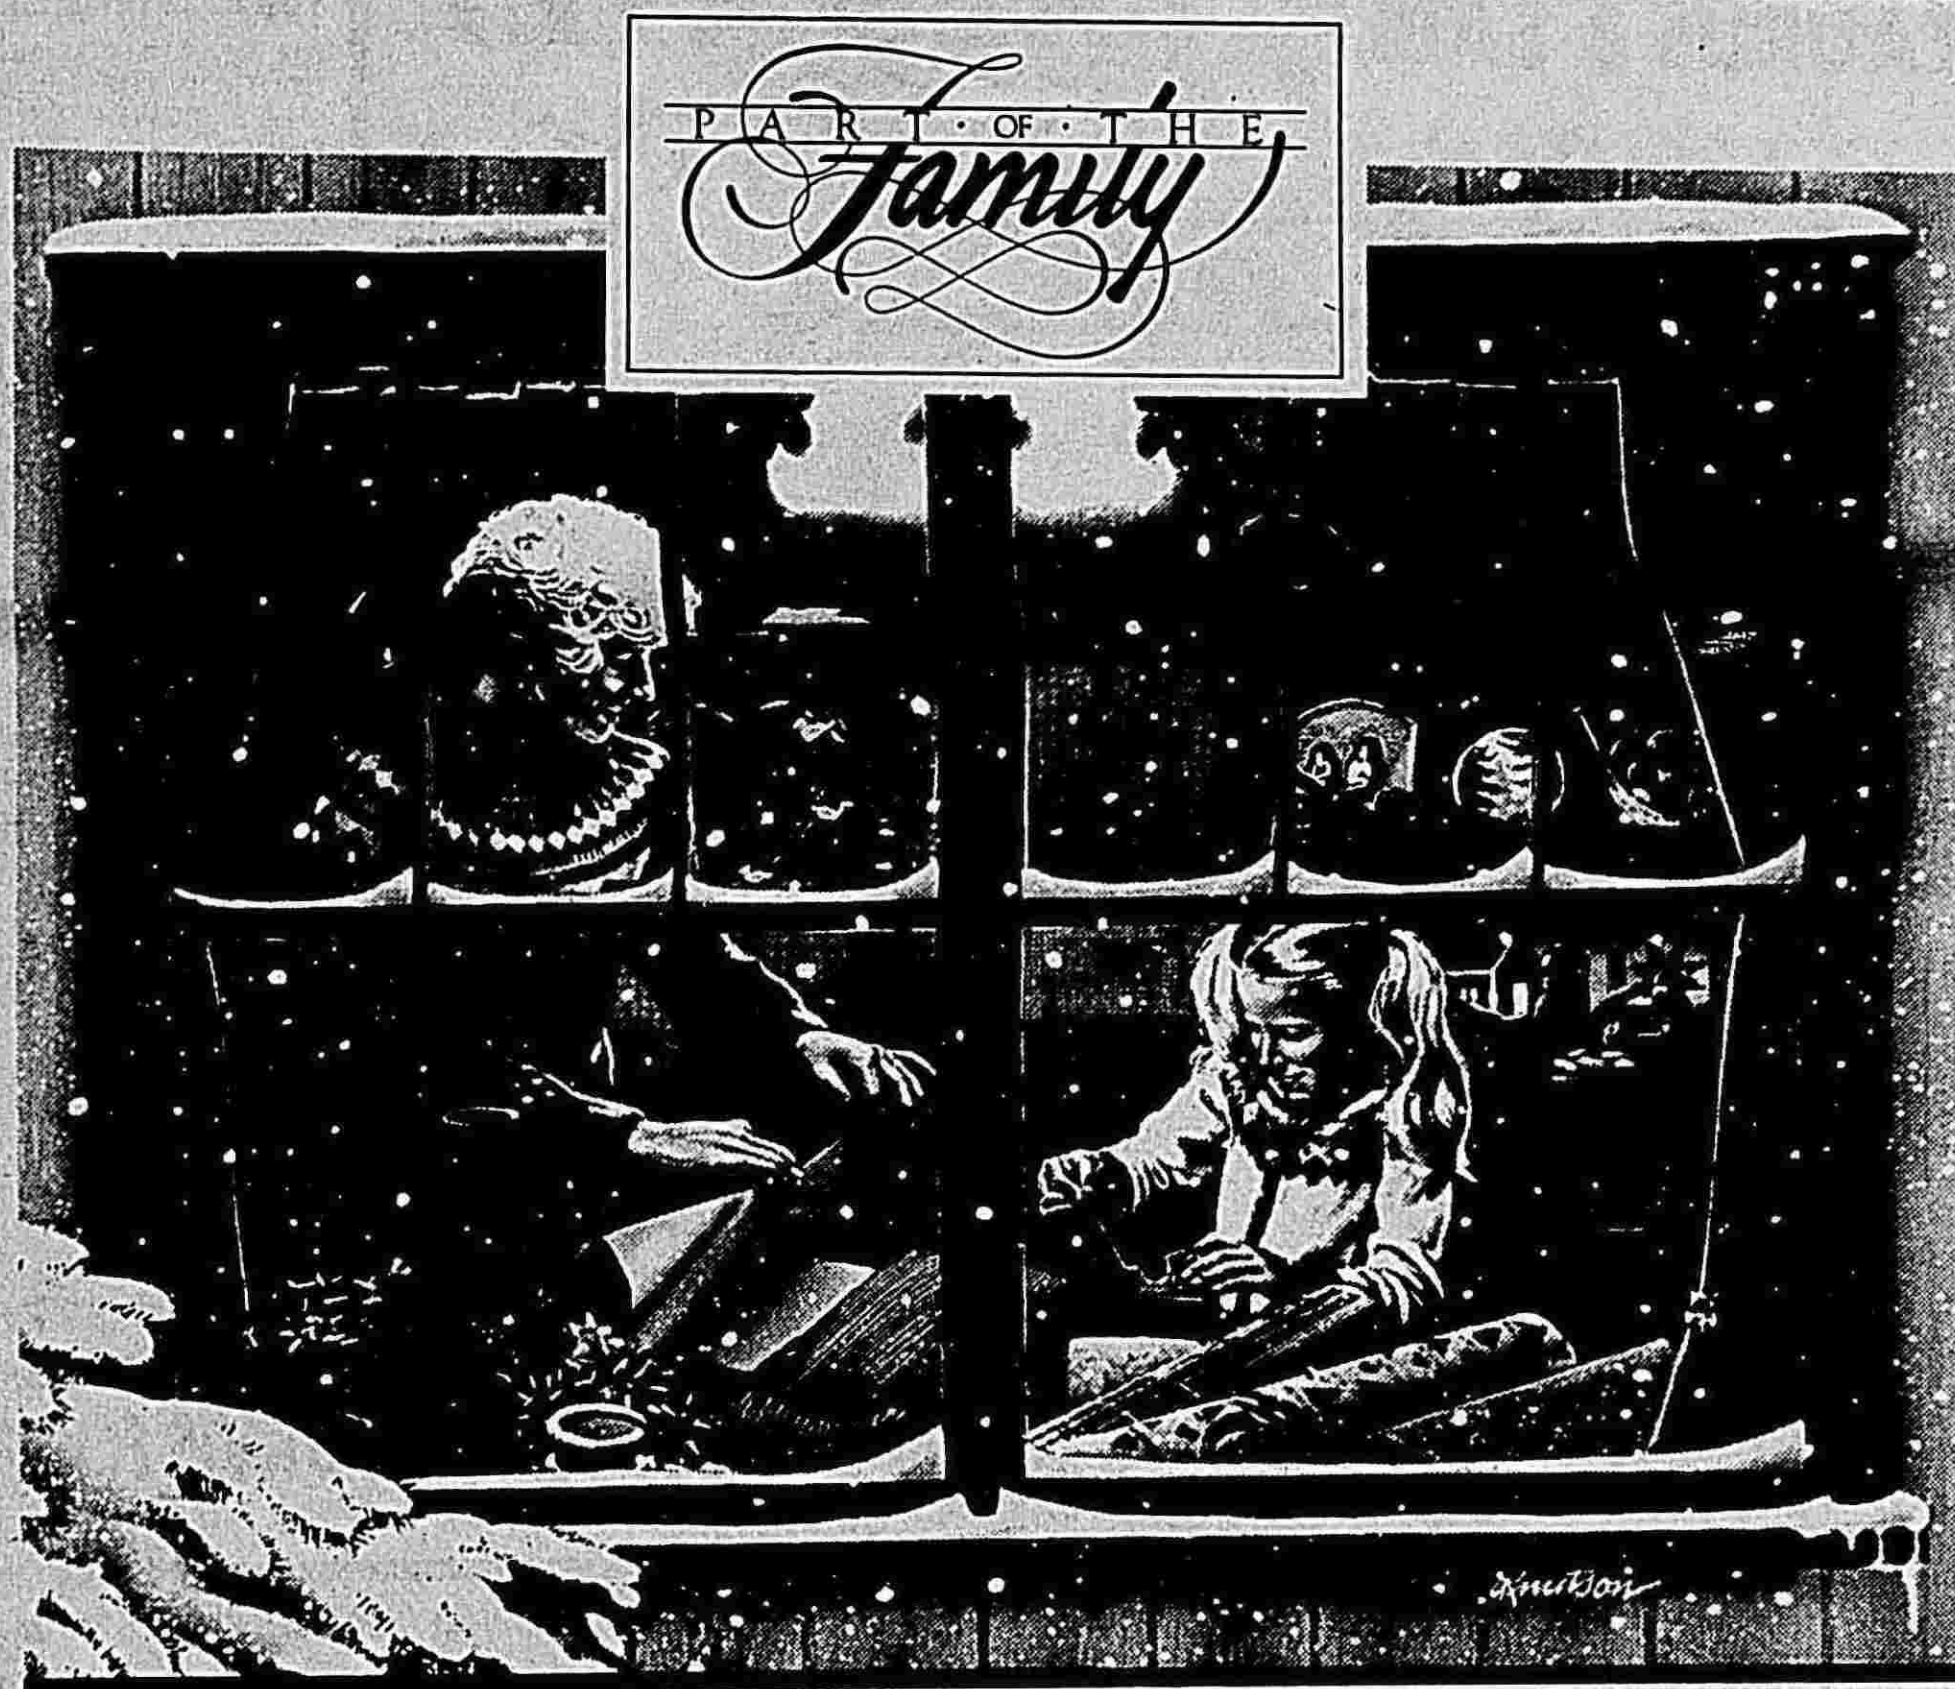

At the other end, Antioch's trapping defense was giving North Chicago fits. The Warhawks committed four turnovers after a Yolanda May basket.

May, who was coming off two 26-point games, was held to 15. When North Chicago did get a shot off, Antioch dominated the rebounding.

Giving strategy

Carmel basketball coach Scott Rosberg gives team strategy during a timeout. Carmel, after splitting two East Suburban Catholic Conference games last week, travels to Chicago to face Marist Dec. 18.

Mustangs aim to halt losses, Patriots look for momentum

One team looking to continue a winning streak while another will be hoping to stop a losing streak will meet when Stevenson travels to Mundelein Dec. 18.

Game time for the NSC encounter is 7:30 p.m.

"We're really happy with where we are. We knew we would be a young and inexperienced team," Stevenson coach George Katich said of the Patriots' 3-3 overall record, 2-1 in the NSC.

Stevenson split two NSC games to open the Patriots' new gym while Mundelein dropped NSC games against Zion-Benton and Antioch last week.

The Mustangs started the Zion contest tied with the ZeeBees for first in the NSC. But Zion's height took over and Zion cruised to a 72-50 win. Zion led 37-21 at halftime.

Mundelein will have another taller team to contend with in Stevenson. The Pats feature 6-6 Rob Anderson in the middle. Anderson scored 16 points and had 13 rebounds in Stevenson's 55-38 loss to Warren and had 13 points and 10 rebounds as the Pats bounced back to knock off Niles North 60-42.

"We got both rebounding and points from Anderson. We have not had that yet from him," Katich said.

On Mundelein, Katich gave the following scouting report: "They're not an inside team, but they like to run the ball down the court quick," he said.

Following the loss to Zion, the Mustangs trailed battled the host Sequoits on even terms for most of three quarters, trailing just 36-34 entering the final session. But the Sequoits then blasted the Mustangs 22-10 to earn the win. Doug Sundall had 13 points but was the only Mustang in double figures.

Stevenson started last week losing by 17 points to Warren, but that was misleading since the host Pats trailed by just six points in the fourth quarter.

"We played great the first half. They're so big and physical, they wear you down," Katich said of Warren.

Stevenson led 13-10 after one and 25-24 at halftime. Warren took charge in the third quarter, gaining a 40-32 lead entering the final stanza.

Antioch wins two NSC games, prepares for Lake Forest

Facing a player the calibre of Lake Forest's Rob Pelinka is never easy, but as far as Antioch basketball coach Don Zeman is concerned, his team's defenses should be ready.

"They're the best team we've played conference-wise so far. But it will be a good time for us to get them," Zeman said of the Dec. 18 game at Antioch. Tip-off for the North Suburban Conference battle is 7:30 p.m.

The Sequoits will be coming into the contest against Pelinka & Co. off two key league wins last week. The 53-39 win at Niles North, coupled with a 59-44 win over Mundelein at home, propelled the Sequoits to a first-place tie in the NSC at 2-0. This coming after four losses to start the season.

Antioch used defense, highlighted by fullcourt pressure, to steamroll into the victory column. Antioch also found its shooting touch, at least somewhat.

"We've held our opponents to under 50 points the last four games and last weekend was the first time we shot better than 40 percent. That's not great, but it's better than the 32 percent we have been shooting," Zeman said.

Pelinka will be coming off a 34-point outing as Lake Forest bombed Fenton 75-55 last week.

He already has another 30-point game in league play against North Chicago already.

Zeman pointed to his team's defense as the strongest factor in the two wins. "One consistent thing which stood out was our fullcourt press defense. We were concerned going in that both teams had better shooters than we did," Zeman said.

At Niles North, Antioch trailed 14-13 after one before dominating the second quarter 18-9 and gaining a 31-23 halftime lead.

"We got the ball inside to Paul Anderson and Greg Gunther," Zeman said.
